Relief From Cold Wave In Midwest Expected Today

SOUTHLAND IS COVERED WITH SNOW

Record Low Temperatures Are Recorded in Rocky Mountains and Coast
DESERT SNOW CLAD
Air Traffic Disrupted in West; 200 Motorists in Mountains Are Freed

A GENTLE FALL OF snow was expected over most of the northern part of the country today to end the iron band of subzero temperatures that has brought suffering to most of the nation.

The relief from cold came after widely scattered cities, particularly in the midwest, Rocky Mountains and on the Pacific coast reported record low temperatures.

A blizzard spread damage over Southern California and neighboring states. Two hundred motorists were trapped in the San Bernardino mountains by the worst storm in years. They were finally released after an 18-hour battle to open roads.

The Mojave desert was snow-covered for the first time in a dozen years. A terrific wind swept across the flat country, piling the snow in huge drifts. Two duck hunters were feared lost on Salton sea. Airplanes failed in a hunt to locate the men.

Air traffic in the west was badly disrupted by the storm. The first snowfall in the Imperial Valley since 1900 was recorded. A two-inch fall was measured in El Centro and the surrounding territory.

In northern Arizona Indians on Hopi and Navajo reservations were endangered when blizzards blocked roads and cut them off from communications. Fourteen inches of snow was reported at the Painted Desert reservation.

Denver was released from subzero temperatures after 22 hours

HANFORD COUNTY TO REDUCE SALARIES

HANFORD, Cal., Dec. 13.—(UP)—Recommendations for sweeping salary reductions, consolidations of schools and changes in laws governing county governments were written into records of the county grand jury today.

The jury, making its first report since it took office this fall, urged salary cuts of from five to 10 per cent for all county employees receiving more than $100 per month, consolidation of 14 schools into seven, abolition of the elementary school supervision fund, elimination of rural and music supervisors in schools, and drastic economy in all departments of the county government.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 13. (To the Editor of The Register:) Well, the Democrats made good out here. I don't know what they promised in the rest of the country, but Roosevelt promised us rain, and by golly he made good. The rest of the country can be excited over prohibition, disarmament, war loans or the new Cabinet. But this is a desert country, and if we don't get rain we are blown up. We can show you oranges growing and flowers. But if you look under the bush you will see a hose. A sprinkling can is our national emblem. Rain is never a nuisance here, it's a miracle. So the Democrats have made good.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

'Department of Stars' To Be Santa Claus

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(UP)—The letter came from a little town in Tennessee and was addressed to the "Department of Stars, Washington, D. C."

Postmen scratched their heads and finally took it to the U. S. Naval observatory. The astronomer there read: "Dear Santa Claus, I am a little girl 6 years old and I want you to send me Xmas presents here is what I want. I want some new dresses and under shirts and bloomers and stockings and a pair of slippers. I am poor and need good warm clothes to wear. And O Santa please send me a cry doll." So the "Department of Stars" will play Santa Claus, not forgetting the "cry doll."

SNOW FELL in foothills and canyons of Orange county last night just before a cold desert wind struck the county, saving the citrus crops in the county from damage from frost but causing considerable damage throughout the county, particularly in the northern part.

Slowly rising temperatures throughout Orange county and Southern California, today, however, heralded the return of normal weather conditions after one of the coldest stretches the state ever experienced.

A considerable amount of snow, unmeasured however, was reported today in Silverado canyon and on the foothills above and back of Lemon Heights.

A cold, driving rain added considerably to the seasonal total in Orange county. Santa Ana received an additional .38 inches from the storm yesterday, making the

CONGRESSMAN FROM TEXAS PASSES AWAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(UP)—Representative Daniel E. Garrett, Democrat, Texas, died at his home here today.

Garrett had been ill with heart trouble.

The Texas representative was first elected to congress in 1912 as a representative at large. He had represented his district consecutively since the 53d congress.

He was born in Robertson county, Tennessee, April 28, 1869, and served in the Tennessee legislature before moving to Texas in 1905.

IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS AGAINST HOOVER DEFEATED

Dry Leaders Attack Beer Trade Plans

Deets Pickett and Bishop James Cannon jr., Before Committee

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(UP)—Charges that the "beer trade" proposes a national advertising campaign "to make every man, woman and child in America a beer consumer" were made before the house ways and means committee today as prohibition leaders fought to stave off Volstead act modification.

Deets Pickett, secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance Prohibition and Public Morals, was the first of three nationally known prohibition leaders to testify.

He marshalled economic and moral arguments against modification, and charged that beer interests are prepared to expand their trade "by exploiting boys and girls, especially girls."

"We know perfectly well that the beer trade is proposing a vast campaign of advertising to make every man, woman and child in America a beer consumer," charged Pickett.

Revenue from a beer tax, he said, would be offset by declines in income and corporation taxes, should modification occur. Unemployment would increase, he predicted, "because of decreased expenditures in other lines of trade."

He warned the farmers that their difficulties "would be accentuated" by modification, due to a "decline in consumption of grains and roughage by milk-producing cattle."

In pre-prohibition days, more alcohol was used in beer than "all other alcoholic liquors combined," he asserted.

"It is a matter of common knowledge," Pickett said, "that such intoxication (beer) seemed to be more long-continuing than intoxication induced by whiskey."

In almost apologetic fashion Pickett said that he "must admit" that prohibition forces "have been asleep."

THREAT ON LIFE OF KAISER UNCOVERED

DOORN, Holland, Dec. 13.—(UP)—A German named Feder who was found carrying a revolver and a dagger in the ex-kaiser's castle yesterday was escorted to the German frontier today and turned over to the German authorities.

Although Feder was believed to have planned the assassination of the former kaiser, Dutch police did not announce any charges against him.

It was understood that Feder was actually in the hall of Doorn house when he was captured, and that Wilhelm and his wife, Princess Hermine, were in a nearby room. Feder was armed with a so-called "parabellum," a heavy automatic revolver of German make holding 50 bullets, and a sharp knife with a 12-inch blade.

WASHINGTON REPORT SAYS SEN. HIRAM JOHNSON TO BE OFFERED POST IN CABINET

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 13.—(UP)—The Sacramento Bee, in a copyrighted story from its Washington correspondent today, said it had learned from an unimpeachable source that United States Senator Hiram Johnson, progressive Republican of California would be offered the portfolio of secretary of the interior in President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt's cabinet.

"Whether Senator Johnson will accept—whether he is even officially informed yet of the incoming Democratic president's plans, is not known for the moment," the Bee story said. "Probabilities are that both will decline to discuss the appointment until the proper time. This is not expected to come until the latter part of January when Governor Roosevelt returns to Warm Springs, Ga., and enters upon the final series of conferences with leaders preliminary to completing his cabinet."

The newspaper said its correspondent's information "came from sources close to the president-elect," adding that "speculation has been rife since the general election over the part Republican Progressives would play in the 'new deal' promised by the president-elect 'during the campaign.'"

Prior to the election Senator Johnson forsook the Republican standard and came out in open support of Mr. Roosevelt. He termed President Hoover "an ultraconservative" whose policies "did not coincide with those of Progressivism."

GRAND JURY TO EXPECT HOOVER OPEN PROBE IN CABINET WILL YACHT MURDER BE BROKEN UP

Formal Charge in Slaying to Be Made Against Wm. Guy Today

LONG BEACH, Dec. 13.—(UP)—William James Guy, debonair young soldier of fortune, was to be charged formally with murder today as the district attorney promised a grand jury investigation into the slaying of Walter Wanderwell aboard his schooner one week ago last night.

A few hours after the body of the slain globe-trotter had slipped into a final resting place at sea, District Attorney Byron Pitts personally ordered the murder warrant issued today. At the same time Pitts ordered the suspect's chief alibi supporters, Edward De Larm and Ralph Dunlap, held as material witnesses.

Pitts issued his instructions after learning that De Larm, an Arapahoe Indian transport pilot, had been tentatively identified as a man seen near the docks the night a mysterious stranger boarded the decrepit schooner and killed his victim from behind.

W. C. Hinton, a street car conductor, said he was "quite sure" it was De Larm who boarded his car one half mile from the docks where the Carma was moored. He fixed the time as 11 o'clock, nearly two hours after Wanderwell was slain, detectives reported.

The conductor's statement only added to the maze of conflicting stories that have bewildered officers since the investigation started. Until then, De Larm's story that he himself was at home had not been openly challenged, although he had been jailed with Dunlap yesterday after they related what investigators said were conflicting stories about their friend.

Investigators said that De Larm insisted Guy spent the night at his home in Glendale, 30 miles from the scene of the shooting. Dunlap's story reputedly was that Guy spoke of going to Long Beach when he himself left the De Larm house about an hour before the murder.

Charges against Guy, Pitts said, will be based chiefly on statements of two members of the Carma's

Resolution Tabled By 361-8 Vote

Rep. McFadden of Pennsylvania Bases Charges on Debt Negotiation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(UP)—The Pennsylvania Republican congressional delegation, at a caucus today, voted unanimously to request resignation of Rep. McFadden, Repn., Pa., as delegation secretary because of the impeachment resolution he introduced in the house earlier in the day.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(UP)—An unsuccessful attempt to begin impeachment proceedings against President Hoover was made in the House of Representatives today.

After a half hour of tense confusion, the house killed the move by voting to table an impeachment resolution offered by Representative McFadden, Republican, Pennsylvania.

Speaker Garner announced the vote was 361 to 8 in favor of tabling the resolution.

A loud cheer burst spontaneously from both sides of the house as the speaker made known the overwhelming vote of confidence in the president.

The only votes not to table the resolution were from Blanton, Democrat, Texas, Griffin, Republican, New York, Hancock, Republican, North Carolina, McFadden, Republican, Pennsylvania, Patman, Democrat, Texas, Romulus, Republican, Missouri, Black and

LEGISLATIVE FIGHT ON TAXES LOOMING

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Dec. 13.—(UP)—Governor Rolph has not made up his mind on the question of increasing tax rates upon public utilities, the Governor said today.

Before he reaches a definite decision, Rolph will confer with Rolland A. Vandegrift, director of finance, who proposed and later withdrew what State Controller Ray L. Riley called "an argument for the utilities" in the recent tax report.

FATE OF NURSERY AT DAVIS UNCERTAIN

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Dec. 13.—(UP)—The fate of California's state nursery at Davis was uncertain today.

The board of forestry, it was learned, had stricken the $9000 for the nursery's support from its budget for the forthcoming year, in the belief it would be taken over by the state division of highways.

"The department of public works, on the other hand, in which the highway division falls, gave no evidence of enthusiasm at assuming this new burden on tax funds. The forestry board said that most of the trees were used for highway beautification, therefore the highway commission should support it."

LAWYERS PLAN FINAL BATTLE TO SAVE JUDD

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 13.—(UP)—Counsel for Winnie Ruth Judd prepared a last ditch fight today to have her from the gallows to which she was doomed today to save her from the Arizona state supreme court.

The supreme court, sustaining the verdict of a trial jury, ruled that the stoical "blond tigress" must die February 17 for the murder of her friend, Agnes Ann Lerol. Although also accused of killing Miss Hedvig Samuelson and shipping both dismembered bodies to Los Angeles in her luggage, Mrs. Judd was tried only on the charge of slaying Miss Lerol.

News of the high court's action reached her late last night in her small, gloomy cell in Florence state prison where the court ruled she must be hanged. It was a dramatic scene when Warden William Delbridge entered and bowed to the doomed woman and her parents, the Rev. W. J. McKinnell and his wife, hovering solicitously near her.

The warden delivered his message briefly. Mrs. Judd stood as though stunned. Finally she spoke. "Mr. Delbridge, I am no murderer," she murmured. "I fought for my life when she (Mrs. Lerol) came at me."

It was this plea of self defense that both trial and supreme courts rejected.

The doomed woman turned to her aged mother who fought back the tears to comfort her.

"Mother," she repeated, "I am no murderer. I am a good woman. I have never associated with bad, low or degenerate people. I have cut up three bodies. I could not have done it."

M. W. D. WAGE SCALE ATTACKED BY LABOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13.—(UP)—A wage scale $1 to $5 under the prevailing schedule has been set by the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California on its $232,000,000 aqueduct from Hoover dam to Los Angeles, presidents of several international labor unions protested today to Timothy A. Riordan, state labor commissioner.

More than 30 trades are affected by the wage reduction, it was charged. The project recently received a $40,000,000 loan from the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Arthur L. Johnson, attorney for Riordan's department, will investigate the charges, it was announced.

BILLINGS TO SEEK NINETY DAY PAROLE

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 13.—(UP)—Warren K. Billings today laid plans to place his application for a 90-day parole before Governor Rolph and the state prison board, in order that he may visit his aged mother in Brooklyn, N. Y.

The man who, like Tom Mooney, is serving a life sentence for participation in the San Francisco 1916 Preparedness day bombing in 1916, insisted, however, that he would not accept a permanent parole unless under specific conditions. Billings has not seen his mother, Mrs. Anna G. Billings, for 20 years, and may never see her unless given leave to go to New York. She is 76 years old.

United States to Accept British Payment After White House Conference

PARIS, Dec. 13.—(UP)—French default on its war debt payment due to the United States on Thursday suddenly became a grave possibility today in the chamber of deputies.

Default would be accompanied by overthrow of Premier Edouard Herriot's government.

The unexpected change in the situation occurred when the foreign affairs and finance commissions of the chamber rejected a resolution drafted by the government, providing for payment to the United States with reservations.

The commissions then went to work on a resolution of their own, embodying the original proposal for default by postponing the payment, regardless of consequences.

UNITED STATES TO ACCEPT PAYMENT
WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(UP)—The United States government agreed today to accept the British debt payment of $55,550,000 due Thursday, after a White House conference of high administration officials.

The conference decided that both nations understood each other's position regarding war debt problems.

The state department announced that there was no reason why the treasury should not accept the proffered British payment. Great Britain maintains that the money shall apply on a future war debt settlement, but the United States will not admit this contention in advance of the payment.

Stimson conferred with President Hoover for a short time as the cabinet convened but hurried back to the state department after a few moments. He left the cabinet regarding the newest developments in the debt situation.

The American government, meanwhile, replied to a recent request by Belgium for postponement of its December payment and revision of the fundamental debt. Undersecretary of State Castle handed the United States' note to Ambassador Paul May at the state department. The reply was understood to be adverse. Save

MOVE FOR ECONOMY IN NAVY AND ARMY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(UP)—House military and naval affairs committees today appointed subcommittees to seek elimination of overlapping activities of war and navy departments with a view to economy.

Two other naval affairs subcommittees were ordered to investigate President Hoover's budget recommendations which would cause large reductions in marine corps personnel, and to investigate his proposal to transfer the hydrographic office and naval observatory to the commerce departments.

The small town Indiana minister, he said, turned to the warden, declaring he was unable to understand the court's action. "It is not what we expected," he said. "We thought surely she would get a new trial."

Warden Deibridge turned to go. As he closed the iron gate behind him, Mrs. Judd and her parents flung themselves on their knees beside the thy, iron cot, and prayed.

"God have mercy on our child," Mrs. McKinnell pleaded. "As they cross, the warden asked Mrs. Judd if she had any message to deliver to the press."

"I have nothing to say to the newspapers," she retorted. "They have told enough lies about me already."

Mrs. McKinnell remained with her daughter all night. An extra cot was erected in the small white-washed cell. Warren Deibridge ordered the cot placed there after the Rev. McKinnell had asked that the two be allowed to spend a few more hours together.

The desperate fight which the convicted woman's counsel was making may reach into the United States Supreme Court. O. V. Willson, chief defense counsel, said an immediate appeal for a rehearing would be sought of the State Supreme Court. If denied, they plan on asking for a reversal from the United States tribunal, on grounds the defendant's constitutional rights were violated.

The jury had found her sane. In denying a new trial, the state supreme court held that Mrs. Judd's trial was fair and impartial and free from the 12 alleged errors cited in her appeal. It overruled the contention that the degree of her intelligence should be considered as a basis for leniency.

"The law does not discriminate between degrees of intelligence in fixing the penalty," it decided. "The state is liable to comprehend the nature and quality of his act and to know it is wrong, nevertheless if he is forced to do it by an impulse which he is unable to control because of an actual disease of the mind, he will be excused."

Should both state and federal courts be barred to her, Mrs. Judd had one more hope—that of executive clemency. Attorneys said as a last resort they would appeal to 72-year-old Governor George remain in the cabinet another two months, Secretary Willson is expected to choose his academic career.

It is believed, as reported from Palo Alto by the United Press some weeks ago, that Dr. Willson has to all intents and purposes handed President Hoover his resignation and is merely waiting now until the chief executive can find a successor for the brief interim before his regime ends in March.

The White House said nothing official was known of Secretary Willson's plans. The secretary when questioned, said:

"I still have until the end of the month to decide—and I prefer to take all the time I can on so weighty a matter."

Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde, reports have persisted, has been considering returning to private life shortly. He has numerous personal interests which he feels need attention.

He has not denied considering resigning before March 4, but in response to questions said: "I think now I may stick on until the end of the administration. We'll have to wait and see."

Some other cabinet officers have been reported "on the fence." Former Secretary of Commerce Robert La Follette quit the end of last summer to go into private industry—and others may follow suit.

IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS ARE DEFEATED

Sweeney, Republicans, Ohio; Black, Republican, New York.

McFadden based his impeachment upon charges upon the foreign war debt negotiations conducted by the Hoover administration. There was an effort to have the impeachment resolution take the parliamentary course of being referred to the house judiciary committee.

After a hurried consultation of house leaders, however, Chairman Poy of the rules committee moved that the resolution be tabled. Poy's motion was adopted overwhelmingly.

McFadden chose a moment when the chamber was half filled and the galleries almost entirely empty to make his sudden and dramatic move. He had been embroiled in hot fights with the administration before over the war debts and international bankers, but he had not intimated he would move for an impeachment at this time.

President Hoover was at lunch when the resolution was offered and had not returned to his offices by the time it had been tabled.

McFadden, scholarly of aspect and dignified of pose, head his resolution without emotion. As word of his action spread congressmen came tumbling in from the cloakrooms and restaurants. The galleries were soon crowded to capacity.

Leaders of both parties, after whispered conferences up and down the aisles, congregated at Speaker Garner's desk. It became apparent that Republicans were seeking some means of blocking consideration of McFadden's bombshell measure.

The Poy motion then was offered.

As the roll call of the house on McFadden's impeachment resolution proceeded it was obvious that an overwhelming majority of the membership of both parties was not sympathetic to the McFadden resolution. Votes against tabling the resolution were few and the congressmen who cast them were booed and hissed by some members.

Rep. Blanton, Dem., Texas, one of the few supporters of the Pennsylvania congressman's resolution, received a hearty boo when he cast his "No" vote. When McFadden himself voted he was hissed. His voice could scarcely be heard above the noise of the restless and angry house.

Parliamentarians explained that the strategy of Chairman Poy of the rules committee, a Democratic leader, in moving that the resolution be tabled would as effectively kill the measure as any other type of action. In addition, it relieved the Democratic controlled judiciary committee from the embarrassing necessity of being forced to hold hearings on the impeachment resolution.

On South Lemon street, two light poles were blown across the street. Many of the Christmas trees placed on the streets were blown over and havoc was created of the Christmas decorations.

The temperatures in the county were not low last night. Thirty degrees was registered in Fullerton, 40 in Tustin and none lower in the entire county.

Edison company employees were kept busy most of the night making repairs to lines caused by falling trees in many parts of the county. Service was resumed early this morning in all points. Few service interruptions occurred in Santa Ana.

The wind and rain caused the telephone company considerable trouble. Fifty telephones were out of service temporarily in Santa Ana and a like number in Orange.

Electric service was off in Orange for five and a half hours starting at 6 p. m., according to reports. Lights went out also in La Habra from 4:30 to 8 p. m. and trouble from the same source was reported generally throughout the county.

Heavy seas and ground swells were reported in the beach areas as a result of disturbances at sea.

Merchants along Main and Fourth streets near the intersection, are finding the canopy erected above the grounds at the corner where the old French building was recently razed, a detriment to their business.

Eighteen business men signed a petition which was sent to the city council at the meeting last night, which asked that the sidewalk be opened around the property. A. L. San Francisco had its coldest December day on record. The bitter cold extended into the Midwest where marks of 20 below or more were frequent throughout Minnesota, Iowa and the Dakotas. Down state Illinois had numerous subzero recordings. The thermometer sank close to the zero point in Chicago but the city's two-year record of above zero weather was not broken. One additional death due to the cold was reported at Chicago. Emergency relief shelters were thronged with homeless men.

storm total 2.68 inches, with 2.70 inches for the season as compared with 5.02 inches last year. The most rain fell yesterday in San Clemente, where .93 inches was recorded during the past 24 hours. Garden Grove received .51 inches yesterday and Talbert received .45 inches.

Little damage was reported to agricultural products of the county, although some oranges were blown on the ground and an unestimated number of oranges were bruised.

The desert wind which swept diagonally across the county from Buena Park down to Anaheim Landing, brought trouble to considerable number of householders, who were without electricity and telephone service for some time during the night.

The gale which swept through Anaheim felled large trees, blew down light poles and disconnected telephone wires in the hardest storm the city has known in years. Many turkeys and chickens escaped the fury of the wind, but some were blown about by the wind. Branches of trees swept down the streets and piled against houses.

A short caused the fire alarm to sound at 2:30 o'clock this morning in Anaheim. At 5:15 o'clock in the afternoon all electric service in the city went out as the result of feed lines which blew down in front of the city substation.

MAY DISMISS CASE AGAINST OLSONS

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—(UP)—Libbie Olson and her husband, Albert, middle-aged couple, today suddenly faced complete freedom instead of life terms in prison for murder.

The overnight change occurred after the Olsons were granted a new trial before three judges on the charge of murdering Charles Scull, their wealthy benefactor. Previously, Superior Judge Isaac Pacht had pronounced them guilty at a trial without jury. He requested two other judges to sit with him to hear the plea for new trial.

The re-trial was granted, and although Judge Pacht refused a motion to dismiss the case, Deputy District Attorney George Johnson said the case probably would be dismissed unless new evidence was found.

NATIONAL DRY LEADERS SLAP MODIFICATION

"They have not maintained an intelligent and continuing campaign of education," Pickett said, adding that "heavily financed wet propaganda has undermined sentiment and captured the machinery of great political organizations."

In sharp criticism of tactics of liquor interests, Pickett said "They want liquor back . . . they want it sold on every corner . . . they want no federal control whatever."

He condemned failure of the proposed Collier "beer and wine" bill to contain a provision which would prohibit advertising of beer.

Rep. Treadway, Rep., Mass., at the conclusion of Pickett's argument, said:

"You talk about the vows of the church as though the Methodist church had vowed against beer drinking. Does it?"

"No," Pickett replied, "I did not mean to infer that."

"Are there beer drinkers in your church," Treadway continued.

"I suppose so," Pickett replied. However, he insisted there "were not many."

"Well, then," Treadway said, "it is different from any other church I ever heard of."

Treadway challenged Pickett's statement that beer gives rise to disturbing social and health problems.

"And then," Treadway said, "you speak of hysteria on the part of proponents of the bill. The opponents have no hysteria, I suppose?"

"No," Pickett replied, "I should say we are free from hysteria."

"Well," the representative said, "I am glad to know that."

"You then speak about objecting to hearing wet propaganda upon the radio. Wets might equally object to dry propaganda. I should call this part of your testimony hysteria."

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, followed Pickett.

The prominent prohibition leader opened his argument by quoting from "The Discipline" of his church, which he said prohibits any of the 4,000,000 members from using intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes.

Cannon told of the stand various state conference of his church against any liberalization of the liquor laws.

"There is only one note," he said, "and that is a clear call against modification."

"I am not prepared," he added, "to say there has been no change in sentiment of some people, but I am prepared to say there has been no change in the opinion of the M. E. Church South or of the Federation of Churches."

Clear weather today was greeted happily by those in charge of the benefit musical concert which is to be presented in the auditorium of the high school at 8 o'clock tonight for needy unemployed of the city. A greater attendance is anticipated now that the weather is more favorable.

Proceeds from the sale of tickets will be used entirely for the purchase of foodstuffs for members and families of the Unemployed association of Santa Ana.

In addition to a large group of Santa Ana musicians and musical organizations which will take part in the concert, Albert Angermeyer, famous concert violinist, of Los Angeles, is included on the program.

Purple was associated with royalty in early times because it was the finest and most expensive dye made by the ancients.

DEBT PAYMENT BY FRANCE MAY BE DEFAULTED

for a promise for later review of the debt agreement.

Payment by Italy of $1,245,437, its current debt installment was assured. Whether France would pay on terms acceptable to the United States remained in doubt as the chamber of deputies considered a new note. Officials here expected that some of the weaker ones would default.

Secretary Stimson received the latest British note at Woodley, his home, as he prepared to retire last night. Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, arranged a hurried appointment and presented his government's note near midnight. Under the pressure of time, the diplomatic wheels are moving faster now than ever in peace time history.

Stimson studied the note before retiring but did not call his associates into conference on it. Officials at the state department early today did not know of the document until United Press dispatches containing it were shown to them. Stimson arrived at his office shortly after 10 a. m. and went to the White House immediately to lay the note before the cabinet.

Upon his return to his office Stimson called in Assistant Secretary of State Bundy, department financial expert, and Herbert Feis, economic advisor, to consider the British note.

While the phraseology of London's communication was somewhat vague, it was interpreted by officials after preliminary examination, to mean:

"We understand that because of constitutional provisions, the American administration cannot promise in advance that the Thursday payment will apply on the revised war debt. Yet we maintain our position that it must, and will make payment with that reservation. You have promised in previous notes that the whole debt structure would be reviewed, and we are making our payment in the light of that promise."

"How Can I Get me a Man?"

(Signed) "Little C. Gift"

Dear Little Christmas Gift:

It's all a matter of technique. If he has cold feet, don't tell him you're so sorry—do something about it! Get a pair of warm comfy wool lined slippers — and put them on the Christmas tree with a kiss and a prayer! It's too easy—the way he'll fall for you will bring tears to your eyes at the simplicity of it all! What if they do cost you $1.75, $2.50, $3.50 or even $4! If that tender, worshipful look, and "You're the one for me, mamma" aren't worth that, they're not worth a drilled two-cent piece. A gift of three pairs of socks in a pretty box all fluffed up with Christmas trimmings is also recommended when the man is extra desirable (oh, so you do think so, do you?) If he doesn't fall for this treatment, then... oh, but he will!

It was a strange cortege which moved out to sea for final rites of Wanderwell. The body, wrapped in canvas, was draped in an American flag as it reposed on the weather beaten decks of the Carmo. A driving rain beat down on the heads of 30 newspapermen, officers, the young widow, Aloha, and members of the crew, one of whom was Lord Edward Montagu, adventurous son of the Duke of Manchester.

A WORD OF COMFORT

The great scientists assert that, since spiritual matters are not those with which science is chiefly concerned, there can be no conflict between science and religion. Science never says "it cannot and will not be."

No arguments can prove or disprove the possibility or certainty of life after death. Your faith in it is as elemental as your trust in your mother's love. Analyze your faith in it as you choose, but live in its light and your hopes will be fulfilled.

ORANGE COUNTY FOREST GROUP ELECTS HEADS

Election of officers and addresses given by people prominent in watershed protection problems featured the program of the annual meeting of the Orange County Forest Protective association. The election resulted in returning John Osterman to the presidency for another term; George Bates, vice president; E. T. Watson, director to the Orange County Farm bureau, and W. M. Cory, secretary-treasurer. The directors whose terms expired this year, E. F. Mathews and George Bates, were re-elected for a three-year term. The full board of directors now consists of John Osterman, George Bates, Harold Brewer, E. T. Watson, Charles Logan, E. F. Mathews and George Kellogg.

Those addressing the annual meeting included Willard Smith, member of the board of supervisors; H. S. Gilman, member of the State Board of Forestry; Harry Valentine, Federal Forest service; L. C. Gordon, State Forest Service; and Joe Scherman, State Forest ranger.

Joe Scherman, ranger, stationed in Orange county, reported 54 fire calls had been received this year with 372 acres of range land burned and 423 acres of brush cover destroyed. Fire damage to improvements amounted to $84,560. The value of the fire trucks for protection of rural property was demonstrated on a number of occasions this season, he said. In all, it is estimated that property to the value of $90,757 was saved during the year.

The program concluded with a showing of the film entitled, "Forests Green and Forests Gray."

BANDIT BETTER OFFICERS PLAN PROSECUTION

With Jack Bennett, alleged service station bandit, given a chance of recovering from a bullet wound inflicted by Cal Mallonee, gas station attendant, early Sunday morning at Seal Beach, police officers today were preparing to start prosecution of Bennett.

Word from the Community hospital in Long Beach, where Bennett was taken by Seal Beach police after he had been brought to police headquarters by Mallonee, was that Bennett had rallied from an operation for removal of the bullet. After robbing the service station man into his coupe and drove to a point on Hatchway cutoff, where the bandit demanded that Mallonee give him his leather coat, according to police. Mallonee had an automatic in a coat pocket and grabbed it as he took off his coat, shooting Bennett.

B. M. A. SELECTS PHIL BROWN AS NEW MANAGER

Phil M. Brown, former assistant manager of the Santa Ana Business Men's association, will succeed R. Earl Ruddy as manager of the association, it was announced today by Herbert P. Rankin, president of the organization.

The announcement followed a decision to promote Brown at a special meeting of the directors of the association which was held yesterday after Ruddy's resignation was presented.

Brown will take charge of the office on January 1, when Ruddy leaves Santa Ana to take a position as secretary-manager of the League of California Municipalities. Ruddy will have offices in San Francisco, where he will make his home.

Brown will have general supervision of the office. David Ruddy, brother of Earl Ruddy, will continue to serve the association in his capacity as special investigator, or, Brown announced today. Otherwise he contemplates no changes either in the personnel or set-up of the office operation.

The new manager has been assistant manager of the B. M. A. for four years next April. He has also been in charge of the adjustment department. When he first came to Santa Ana, he was connected with Vandermast and Son as credit manager, a position he resigned to enter the B. M. A. office. Previous to coming to Santa Ana, Brown was manager of the Anaheim Credit association for a year. Before that time, he was in charge of the Sheridan, Wyo., credit association from 1929 to 1932.

A member of the Santa Ana American Legion post, Brown served overseas for 18 months during the World war. He also is a member of the Santa Ana Elks lodge.

COLLINS TO BE ASSISTANT D. A. FOR FEW DAYS

Scheduled to take over his duties Thursday as district attorney to finish out the term of Sam L. Collins, recently elected congressman from the nineteenth district, Assistant District Attorney S. B. Kaufman today announced that there would be no changes in office personnel under his administration.

Kaufman said that he intends to reappoint all deputies and will give Collins a temporary appointment as assistant district attorney to continue until he leaves for Washington after the Christmas holidays. Appointment of Collins temporarily was made, Kaufman said, to make it possible for him to complete certain investigations started under his regime and to turn over administrative details of the office.

Kaufman said that when Collins leaves the office for Washington, appointment of a new deputy to fill his place would be announced. Kaufman declined to state whether or not the new appointee would be one of the deputy positions in the office, with a deputy being promoted to assistant.

Kaufman who has been in the district attorney's office for several years, as a deputy under Z. B. West and as assistant district attorney under Collins, was appointed by the supervisors to succeed Collins in his uncompleted term, shortly after Collins' election to congress. Collins submitted his resignation to become effective December 15 immediately after his election.

TERRY STEPHENSON IS OPERATED UPON

Following an operation at St. Joseph's hospital today, the condition of Terry E. Stephenson, Santa Ana postmaster, was pronounced satisfactory by attending physicians.

The operation, for an abdominal abscess which was drained, was performed by Dr. William I. Kroger, Los Angeles specialist.

Stephenson has been confined at the hospital for appendicitis more than two weeks.

It was recently reported that 80 per cent of American manufacturers are dependent on agricultural products.

Editor, Register.

I wish to let you know how much I appreciate your editorial "Mentally Sick Not Criminals; Should Not Be Treated As Such" on Saturday, December 10, especially when you say such handling as contrivances used for criminals, for one with a sick mind does the very opposite of putting that one's mind at ease and effecting a cure.

Why is it that the mentally sick are treated so? Is it not just a sickness as any other sickness? And why the increased grief and anguish for their relations who are forced to see their loved ones go through such trying ordeals? I am glad of an opportunity to express my views on this subject, a subject very near my heart, and a subject rarely given any attention to unless it touches one's own family and yet a subject every one of us should be interested in—that of seeing the mentally sick are not made worse by process of law or red tape.

I am glad, very glad, an amendment is proposed, and I do hope it is adopted for if not, were any one of us to be mentally sick, we would be subjected to the same wrong treatment which increases the sickness and diminishes the chance of a cure.

I know a case where there was need of care and where the relatives recognized the patient needed hospital care, and where any judge or doctor could easily have proved the condition of the patient right in the home, and yet that person, mentally ill and needing tending, understanding care, was placed behind the bars ten whole days. The picture the relatives saw of that one has never ceased to cause them sorrow and anguish and one, at least, feels strongly that it has been the means of the very opposite of effecting a cure.

I would like to see the law amended, so that the judge and doctor could go to the home, and on proper investigation take that one or allow his relatives to take him or her, privately and quietly to the hospital.

Sincerely,
FAIR PLAY.

Editor, Santa Ana Register,
Dear Sir:
Please allow me to express my appreciation of the splendid editorials that you publish from time to time on international and national subjects. Few communities are as fortunate as we are, in having a paper so capable to look at things from a liberal and logical standpoint as the Register. I wish to commend you especially upon your articles dealing with "Technocracy" that have appeared lately in your paper. This subject is now to the fore in almost all of the leading magazines throughout the country, and it is a subject so far-reaching and vital that it behooves every one to give it special attention, and I am sure that there are large numbers of people in Santa Ana and Orange county in general who would be glad to know all that is to be known in regard to it. I, for one, would be more than pleased if you or anyone else could suggest ways and means to gather together a group of people to discuss it under a forum system of discussion. Hoping that others will express themselves upon the subject through the medium of your splendid paper, I remain
Yours for enlightenment,
R. J. LEWIS.

Tires, Robe And Shoes Taken From Auto At Newport

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 13.—Theft of two tires, an auto robe valued at $25, a pair of coveralls and a pair of shoes from his car as it was parked on Central avenue near Twenty-first street last night, was reported to police headquarters by S. R. Baldava, of Long Beach.

New Members For Buena Park Club

BUENA PARK, Dec. 13.—The regular meeting of the Old Mids club was held at the home of Miss Kate Crapo on Highland avenue. Criticisms having been received by the girls from young men of the community, they retaliated by voting to make them honorary members of the club. Those so mentioned were Howard Bland, Carl Harris and Jack Coffin.

Invitations to join were extended to Miss Polly Uphaw and Miss Lona May Travis, and accepted. Margaret Battelle, club scribe, opened the session with the song "Oh Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" Sewing games, letters to Santa and refreshments filled the remainder of the afternoon. Mildred Crapo will entertain at the next meeting.

$250 Raised For Beach Yule Work

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 13.—The city firemen, taking the lead in preparing a Christmas for the needy in this city, and especially for children, have set their goal for cash needed in the work at $500. Of this sum, about half has been raised to date. Donations may be mailed to the fire department Christmas fund or left at the fire station or at firemen's Christmas headquarters at 220 Main street.

Headquarters is like a toy store with its collections of repaired and repainted toys. Some of the civic organizations and clubs of the city are cooperating with the firemen in their Christmas plans.

Beach P. T. A. In Program Tuesday

MIDWAY CITY, Dec. 13.—Mrs. Pearl Hell, of this place, who is president of the high school Parents-Teacher association of the Huntington Beach district, announces a meeting of the organization for this evening. The meeting is being held at the high school and Mr. Hammon of the high school faculty will be the speaker of the evening, taking as his subject "The Moral Training in Education."

The Men's chorus will appear on the program, to which all patrons and friends of the organization are invited to attend.

Every day Penney's huris that challenge. Every day there's a line-up in our Testing Laboratories... a line-up formed by merchandise that SEEMS to meet our exacting standards. But we're not convinced. We seek positive evidence that it's 100% right.

No, we refuse to take a chance. It's against our thirty-year-old policy to use the word "Value" lightly. To Penney's the term means nothing less than the utmost quality obtainable at the smallest price.

Hence nothing's left to guesswork. Science isn't easily deceived. Test tubes play no favorites. Microscopes see things as they really are. Fool-proof devices soon discover wearing qualities, fading tendencies, shrinking possibilities and the like.

That's the ordeal facing doubtful "Values" coming before us. Only the 100 per cent fit survive. Value—by test, never by guess! That's Penney's way of assuring YOU the very most today's dollars will buy!

ENTERTAINMENT IS STAGED BY LEAGUE

SEAL BEACH, Dec. 13. — The local chapter of the Epworth league gave a party recently in honor of their parents. Edsel Martin sang a solo, with Ana Bernice Johnson as accompanist. Margaret Smith played a piano solo and later for group singing. Gladys and Dorothy Jones sang a duet and Alfred Pease played a violin solo. Audrey Armstrong gave a reading, "A Boy's Mother." Parents and leaguers then went into the auditorium where the Seal Beach Cowboys entertained them with numbers. Those entertaining were Edward Howard, guitar; Edward Finch, violin; Lloyd Finch, clarinet; Carl Glenn, harp; Wilbur Hussey, harmonica and Edsel Martin, soloist.

Refreshments of cake and tea were served by the league members. Georgia Pickett, vice president, was in charge of the program.

Birthday Dinner Held At Smeltzer

SMELTZER, Dec. 13.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Pyle was the hospitable scene of a dinner party on the event of Mr. Pyle's birthday anniversary. Mrs. Pyle entertained a group of relatives and friends at turkey dinner in observance of the occasion.

A yellow and rose color scheme was used by Mrs. Pyle in decorating her dinner table. Yellow roses formed the centerpiece, while place cards, nut cups and all other features carried out the scheme.

Twelve were seated at the dinner table and included in the number were Mr. and Mrs. John Kettler and daughter, Miss Mary Kettler, of Springdale; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pickett and Mrs. Dora Webber of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Snyder, of Buena Park; Miss Mabel Long, of Orange; Glenn Pyle and the honoree and

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG -- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON By Paul Mallon

CABINET

President-elect Roosevelt is having more trouble than you know trying to pick a cabinet. In the end it will not be as formidable as everyone expected.

The reason is simple. Many big Democrats of the country are broke, just like everyone else. At least they are so badly bent they cannot afford to contribute their services to the government for $5,000 a year. Those less bent have affairs and associates demanding their services for the serious days ahead.

For these reasons you may scratch off your list many of the names publicly discussed so far.

BANKS

Banking legislation is getting mixed up underneath with personalities.

The Administration put it on the emergency list for action. It was stressed by Mr. Hoover and Mr. Mills in their formal statements. Unfortunately they did not mention the name of Senator Glass in their recommendations. The Glass Bill is the only banking reform legislation before Congress. With some revisions it is the only one that will pass or even be considered.

You can imagine what a hit it made with Glass when the administration took up his reform idea without credit. When asked for comment on the president's message, Glass grunted. That always means trouble.

It will require soft soap and diplomacy to straighten the matter out, but it probably will be done.

The secret of the thing is that Hoover and Mills want a part of the Glass Bill — unified banking and branch banking. They hold their noses at the rest of it. So does the Federal Reserve System. The diplomatic Mr. Meyer, head of Federal Reserve, has been handling Glass with care. An agreement between them is near.

The odds favor action in Congress before March 4 but it is by no means certain.

EXCHANGE

Our best official sources have learned the British and Japs are playing poker with their currency. Recent skidding of the pound and yen had full cooperation from London and Tokyo. There is no direct connection between the two events, except they both had somewhat the same purpose. The British wanted to bolster their argument on war debts as well as to increase the advantages of exporting industries. The Japs have the exporting trade in mind.

Neither country is in good financial condition. Their money would probably have suffered anyway, but hardly to the extent that it has.

A confidential check by our fiscal authorities indicates Japanese currency is backed now by 100 per cent gold reserves. Normally the reserve is only 40 per cent. The yen had contracted 58 per cent to a recent date. The highest whispers are that money may yet go to $2.50.

FREUD

Stimson's suppressed desires are all automobiles.

The treasured secret of the Secretary of State is the fact that he hauled his government-owned Lincoln on a boat and took it to London for the recent naval conference. It irked him considerably when his friends glibbed him about it.

Now he has won one of his greatest diplomatic motor victories. While salaries and everything else in the department were being cut, Stimson got away with a $5,000 appropriation for a new Lincoln in the budget. It will go to his successor.

ARMY

You can hear the army generals cackling from here to the Pacific over what is going to happen after March 4 to Mr. Stimson's fair-haired boy, Capt. Eugene Regnier.

The official whisper around the war department is that a nice home-seat is being dusted off for him at Fort Maria, Texas, an outpost on the Rio Grande. It is so far from anywhere that the generals do not even know exactly where it is. He will be banished there by official orders.

Regnier's sin was that Stimson took a liking to him some years back. Stimson got Senator Reed of Pennsylvania to pass an Act of Congress in order that he might keep Regnier as his official military aide.

The army people have burned about it. They hate to see a low captain, hobnobbing with kings. They have been whetting their knives for some time and will get their opportunity March 4 when Stimson goes out.

MOVIES

Close associates of Will Hays deny his contract is up in two or four months. They claim it has two years to run. Some say four.

Their story is that the movie magnates are trying to get him out because he is a Republican. The magnates want a Democrat while Roosevelt is in the White House. Hays is well informed as to their intentions. His office recently planted a story in a movie trade publication headlined: "Will Hays must stay. Industry in All Lines needs him in Lead."

It looks like an interesting fight while Hays is learning to read.

NOTES

French confidence in our money is not very high now. . . . You may expect some new attacks on the dollar from that source before long. . . . The French are more pleased about the Roosevelt election than any other nation. . . . They have not liked Mr. Hoover since the moratorium was forced down their throats. . . . The announcement of the French ambassador denying that Paris was attacking the dollar is slightly premature. . . . Mullen of Nebraska has strong inside endorsements for Attorney General in the Roosevelt Cabinet. . . . The man who applauded loudest for the dyes in the house was a dry New Yorker who drinks plenty. . . . He has the reddest back in the house and he earned it.

NEW YORK By James McMullin MAYORALTY

Every day in every way fusion looks more like diffusion. There are now some fifteen different groups which agree on nothing except opposition to Tammany Leader Curry. Nothing short of a miracle will bring them together. The miracle could be Al Smith.

If Al Smith can be induced to run for mayor in 1933 all bets are off. Even the political elements opposing admit that there would be no use backing him.

Smith himself had nothing to do with the Smith-for-mayor movement started last week. The understanding is that he will not refuse if the demand is sufficiently urgent — although he does not crave the job. The curious thing is that none of the group which started the shouting — with one exception — is anything but an outside amateur in politics.

The committee formed by State Chairman Macy — with ex-Gov. Chas. F. Whitman as chairman — was designed to kill off Macy's arch enemy — County Chairman Sam Kosciuszko — who has survived many murder plots. It is not necessarily anti-McKee but as yet it is not pro-anybody. The roster of the committee reads like looking through

FINANCE

One reason why banks have been so firm and fervent in the matter of City economy is because they have never yet succeeded in unloading on the public the last issue of city notes they underwrote. About half of the issue is still on their shelves.

Comptroller Berry presently will be the goat all around. Berry's ambition to be mayor has led him to play straight into the hands of his enemies. He will be blamed to the public for letting the city get into such a hole without doing anything about it. He will also be blamed to the city employees for any pay cuts they may have to take. Deputy Comptroller Prill—with enormous influence among the Civil Service employees—was slated to get his job. Whether he does so now will depend on how good a boy he is in not raising too much of a row.

ECONOMY

The National Economy league has scheduled a big convention in Washington for the middle of this month. The idea was to create a spurge of publicity and impress on Congress the number of voters represented. That's out.

The thrift outfit is suffering from internal difficulties. A strong faction is demanding privately but vehemently to know who let Major Henry Curran in as general manager. Progress has been disappointing both in the sign-ups from the membership campaign and in the results of private contact with Congressmen.

Now the league will modify its immediate program. Instead of battling for a reduction in the present appropriations for veterans, energies will be concentrated on heading off additional pension legislation which is definitely in sight.

VETERANS

When the bill to pay veterans for non-service disabilities was introduced in 1930, General Hines of the Veterans Bureau estimated that by 1935 380,000 veterans would be beneficiaries of the law at an annual cost to the government of 50 million dollars. The estimate was a trifle conservative. Before 1933 the enrollment is rapidly approaching half a million and the cost is more than one hundred million a year from this law alone. The number of beneficiaries is still growing like an army chow line.

REAL ESTATE

Experts hold that still further deflation of New York real estate values is on the way and that there will be another wave of foreclosures before the shooting is over. Real estate owners expect no immediate relief from Tammany's change of heart. The slated economies will simply make it possible to balance the budget on current tax receipts.

WATERWAY

Several important savings banks and insurance companies are keeping a watchful eye on the St. Lawrence Waterway treaty. They will not become active unless passage by Congress seems likely. This contingency would bring forth a brisk barrage of under cover lobbying against it.

SPAIN

The Spanish Republic's try at confiscating I. T. & T. properties has stirred up a pretty hornet's nest in influential circles. The big guns of financial pressure will be brought to bear and Spain will either lay off or find herself a new set of bankers.

TAMMANY

Tammany Hall has sent out word to its office holders to pay off their debit balances with brokerage houses—if they can. Leaders are worried that a story may break soon which will disclose that some important officials are deeply in debt. The favors granted in return would make spicy reading.

CITRUS HOUSES HOLD SESSIONS COMING MONTH

FULLERTON, Dec. 13.—Beginning January 5, annual meetings of the many orange and lemon packing houses will be held during the month, including sessions where reports of the activities of the year just past will be heard by member growers of the concerns, and where in most cases an annual dinner will be served.

All but two of the nine houses connected with the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange hold annual meetings. The La Habra Citrus association will meet January 8 all day at the Woman's clubhouse, where dinner will be served at noon. Placentia Mutual Orange association member growers will meet January 10 at the packing house. A turkey dinner will be served. Harry O. Easton is manager of the house, the largest citrus packing house in the world.

Orangeville Citrus association annual meeting, the ninth in its history, is scheduled for January 12 at 10 a. m., at the packing house. A. S. Swank is manager. Placentia Orange Growers association, with two packing houses, one at Placentia and one at Fullerton, will hold its annual meeting January 14 at 10 a. m. at the cafeteria of the Fullerton union high school. A. J. Prizer is manager. Dinner will be served at noon.

Fullerton Mutual Orange association, S. C. Baker, manager of the packing house, will hold an annual meeting January 17 at the packing house.

Placentia Co-Operative, J. F. Hixon, manager, will meet January 18. The place is not arranged, but it is suggested the meeting will be a dinner affair at the Placentia Round Table clubhouse, as it has been in the past.

Reports and election of officers of the Yorba Linda Citrus association, under the new management, will be held January 21. Although complete arrangements have not been made, it is assumed the annual session will be a dinner meeting at the Woman's clubhouse.

Bradford Brothers and the Eastland Fruit company, both members of the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange, do not hold annual meetings. Two other packing concerns that hold annual sessions are the Eastland-church company and the Chapman packing houses.

Fullerton Co-Operative, the Mutual Orange Distributors house in Fullerton, with Otto Isdo, manager, will hold its membership meeting January 19 at the packing house. The house became a member of M. O. D. last February.

NEW MEASURE CALLS FOR $5 DAILY LICENSE

First reading of a new ordinance regulating and referring to business transacted in Santa Ana by "transient" merchants was given at the regular weekly meeting of the city council last night in the city hall.

The ordinance, according to City Clerk Ed Vegely, is the first of several which were sponsored by the Santa Ana Merchants' association, which organization is attempting to protect local merchants from transient merchants who come in to the city to unload bankrupt merchandise.

The ordinance calls for a license fee of $5 a day for the transients, if they do not stay in business in the city for more than 90 days. The ordinance will not apply to commercial travelers or selling agents who operate for the purpose of resale for present or future deliveries, nor to persons selling fruit, vegetables, eggs, butter or other ranch products raised or produced by themselves.

The ordinance defines a "transient" merchant and makes it mandatory that an extensive questionnaire be filled out before a business license is granted by the city clerk.

DISCONTINUE OFFICE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 13.—The San Pedro Lumber company, which has had an office and extensive lumber yards in this city for the past 15 years, will discontinue the Huntington Beach branch January 1. It was announced here today by J. A. Cook, manager of the company for this city.

REICH'S NEW 'IRON MAN'

Literally, his name means "sneak" . . . that's a poor name for Lieut.-Gen. Kurt von Schleicher, Germany's new chancellor. He has been the power behind the scenes for several years . . . as maker and unmaker of ministers . . . but there is nothing sneaky about him, well-dressed, amiable Von Schleicher . . . He's 56, a confirmed bachelor until two years ago . . . when he married his cousin . . . Has the short-clipped hair and mustache of the German military . . . somewhat pallid, with piercing gray-blue eyes, a sardonic expression of the mouth . . . likes stag-hunting, fine food, large pale cigars, and French red wines . . . Distinctly a favorite at social gatherings, he has more admirers than intimates. . . . Had typical military education of a nobleman's son . . . assigned to Von Hindenburg's regiment in 1906, was still a lieutenant when the war opened . . . fought the war from a swivel chair, except for brief assignment to the Galician front . . . became a general only two years ago . . . helped organize, after the war, the Freikorps of returned veterans that held the republic against Communist (Spartacist) assaults. . . . Helped Groener organize the Reichswehr out of these elements. . . . Apparently without personal ambition . . . he was content to elbow Mueller out of the chancellorship, put Brüning in, censor his speeches. . . . Ousted him, then, and engineered Von Papen into the job . . . told Groener, his former army superior, to his face to step down as minister of defense . . . and made it stick . . . A Junker of the old order, had long experience as liaison officer between the Army and the Reichstag . . . so gets along well with politicians. . . . Has few political or personal enemies. . . . As chancellor, minister of defense, and Reich commissioner to Prussia, he is now perhaps the most powerful man to arise in Germany since the war.

CITY COUNCIL RESOLUTION ASKS NEW DEAL ON GAS TAX; HOLD CONFERENCE THURSDAY

The city council, meeting in regular session last night in the city hall, adopted a resolution regarding the division of the gas tax monies paid in to the state, which is to be sent to the California League of Municipalities, an organization which is taking direct action to secure an equitable share of the tax money for the cities of the state.

The resolution asks that three-fourths of the amount resulting from registration of vehicles in the city be returned and paid to the cities. All revenue resulting from rural registration and all receipts for license plates should be paid to the county treasurer, according to the terms of the resolution, including the remaining one-fourth of the registration funds.

At the same time, the city council made plans for sending a delegation to a meeting to be held in the Anaheim city hall on December 15 at 7:30 p. m. when representatives of city councils from various Orange county cities will meet to discuss the gas tax situation, including legislation which is to be introduced at the next session of the state legislature.

ATTEMPT TO SHIFT BLAME IN MURDER

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—(UP)—Defense counsel for James O'Keefe former East St. Louis gangster, attempted today to show that Virgil Roach, busboy, rather than O'Keefe fired the shot which killed Charles N. Boseman, dealer aboard the gambling ship Rose Isle.

O'Keefe is charged with the crime. Roach is the principal witness for the state.

Roach, under defense cross-examination, was asked point blank if he had fired the fatal shot. He answered with an emphatic "No!"

The defense, however, was to call nearly a dozen witnesses during the next few days in an effort to swing the blame from O'Keefe.

Council Notes

E. H. Miller made application to the city council last night for an appointment as special police officer. He said he needed the appointment to be in a position to accept a job offered him as house detective for the Famous Department store. The matter was referred to Police Commissioner E. G. Warner with power to act.

The council last night received a petition from the Rurup estate asking that a 12-inch irrigation pipe be installed along the estate instead of a 10-inch pipe which was installed to replace a pipe and SLED Saints, Inglewood To Play At Manuel Arts

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

"Slip" Madigan, coach at St. Mary's, tips us off that Southern California will beat Pittsburgh in the Rose Bowl... his reason for thinking so is that Howard Jones and his Trojans have not been defeated by a double wingback system in at least the last five years... Mr. Jones has the system well defended, and "Slip" concludes: "I base my prediction on the assumption that the material at Stanford and Pitt are about on a par, which was proved by the game between these two teams."

JOHNNY HAS NERVE

Two years ago, when Jockey Johnny Gilbert started riding at Fairmont Park, near St. Louis, his mount fell with him... but he received bruises and cuts... but he came back to ride a winner the same day... he fell again at Hawthorne... but came back to win seven races in eight days... he fell at Bowie... and at Havana he was crowded into the fence and broke a bone in his foot... now it appears he is going to win the year's jockey championship... he may boost his number of winning mounts beyond 200... the record is 207.

CASH DOES HELP

Sidney Well, president of the Cincinnati Reds, says that the deal whereby Babe Herman went to the Cubs, and Richbourg, Hemsley, Bob Smith and Johnny Moore came to the Reds, involved some cash... enough cash, says he, to re-establish the Cincinnati club's credit, and it was highly important that we did so... there must have been plenty of cash, at that.

TEARS HELP, TOO

They say that "Hunk" Anderson was overcome by his emotions in his pre-Army game pep talk to the boys of old Notre Dame. When he reached the point of saying, "This is the game where some guys either prove you are a Notre Dame football team or just a bunch of stuffed suits," he was as large as football rolled from his eyes.

THE BIG OLD BEAR

Anderson has decided against his optimism he radiated last year when he took over the coaching job at South Bend. Now he walks dejected in gloom. The lesson was bitterly learned at Pittsburgh. The newspapers carried stories to the effect that betting odds on Notre Dame to beat Pitt were 6 to 1. A long list of Pitt players who wouldn't be able to play because of illness and injuries also was published. "Hunk" says his lambers refused to take the game seriously. In fact, they laughed and joshed all through the last two periods.

So, before the game with Southern California, "Hunk" gave off clouds of gloom. His squad was stricken with flu. An ambulance would be needed to carry branches from the train to the hospital. Howard Jones called together his Trojans and told them not to take the stories seriously, and that Notre Dame would have full strength on the field Dec. 10.

By the way, some sort of prize should go to the copywriter who wrote the headline over that story: "Trojans Snuff at Notre Dame Enemey." It seemed to be the year's best football headline.

EAST HITS BACK

The east, taken here to define that small part of the country between the Rockies and the Atlantic ocean, has had lots of fun this year with Pacific Coast ball clubs. Oregon State lost to Fordham and Detroit; St. Mary's lost to Fordham and Alabama and Stanford lost to Pitt. How quaint and unusual!

'LINEMEN NEED SENSE OF HUMOR' SAYS ERNIE SMITH, EXPLAINING BANAS FEUD

BY GEORGE H. BEALE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—(UP)—The sport parade went to the University of Southern California today to learn how football became a part of the annual Notre Dame football game and came away from the campus with a pretty good idea of when to use a mute in playing the slide trombone.

It must be remembered that while Southern California was winning Saturday's contest, 13 to 0, Larry Stevens, Trojan guard, and Steve Banas, Irish fullback, developed a most uncanny ability to mix.

In the final quarter the feud became so heated that at the end of each play, regardless of which side had the ball or in what direction it was going, Stevens and Banas ended up in a pretzel-like tangle.

After the pair, arms flailing, tangled on six consecutive plays, quick-thinking officials decided it was too much to charge to coincidence and so they chased both from the field.

Ernie Smith, 250-pound All-American tackle, the man who dominated the play of the game, was sought out to explain what made Stevens and Banas so pugilistic.

He was located at the musical organization's hall where his No. 12 borgan was keeping time for

COLISEUM NOT AVAILABLE FOR TITLE TUSSELE

Manual Arts field in Los Angeles, the best available neutral gridiron, will be the site of Saturday's Santa Ana-Inglewood game for the Southern California high school football championship.

This decision was reached last night after Saint, Sentinel and C. I. F. officials had wrestled with the problem all day.

Manual Arts field, located at Vermont and Forty-second streets, about four blocks from Olympic stadium, was virtually a compromise selection after the schools were unable to obtain use of the coliseum, which is undergoing tunnel repairs that would violate the stadium's insurance policies if the public were admitted.

Wrigley field in Los Angeles, Los Angeles high school field, Whittier college field, Ramsau field in Compton and two Long Beach gridirons were considered before Manual Arts was chosen.

Wrigley field was not obtainable because the playing field is being retrenched for the impending Pacific Coast league baseball season.

TO RUN SPECIAL TRAIN

The Pacific Electric railway will run a special train from Santa Ana to the Saint-Inglewood football game at Manual Arts field Saturday.

Cars will leave here at 12:30 a. m. arrive at Exposition boulevard and Vermont street, five blocks from the field, about 1:40. Game-time is 2 o'clock. Tickets, costing 70 cents a round trip, will be good on any returning train Saturday night or Sunday.

Tickets may be secured at Santa Ana high school or at the Pacific Electric agency.

Santa Ana absolutely refused to play at Los Angeles H. I., arguing that the trip clear across Los Angeles would be too dangerous for its student body.

Whittier's field was said to be in poor condition and Inglewood didn't want to play there anyway.

Compton's seating capacity wasn't large enough and Long Beach eliminated itself as a possible site because of a Long Beach school board rule prohibiting post-season games on school property.

Manual Arts, which has a field that seats 12,000 comfortably, was next considered and all heads agreed it was the best next choice.

The schools will not have to pay rental for this park which will save them almost $1000, it is believed.

Tickets for reserved seats go on sale here tomorrow at Victor Walker's sporting goods store, Santa Ana and Inglewood will conduct "home sales" at 50 cents per ticket although admission at the gate Saturday will be 75 cents. Student tickets, obtainable at the school, will cost only 25 cents.

The officials will be Fred Cozens, referee; Voyte Brennan, umpire; Ray Call, head linesman, and Norman Barker, line judge. Cozens and Brennan were two of the four officials at the recent Santa Ana-Santa Barbara semi-final game.

SOUNDS GOOD, ANYWAY

Northwestern University's football squad will have a post, at least in name, on its roster next season. He is Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, who hails from Superior, Wis.

Lindstrom to Join Pirates In Big Trade

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—(UP)—Club owners of the National league opened their big "economy" meeting today while baseball managers tried to "whisper up" more trades like the important three-cornered deal announced last night.

That exchange, the second largest baseball transaction of the year, centered around Fred Lindstrom, for eight years star third baseman and outfielder of the Giants. Lindstrom, who became extremely discontented last summer when the Giants gave the managership to his roommate, Bill Terry, instead of to himself, was sent to the Pirates.

The Giants also sent "Chick" Fullis, utility outfielder, to the Phillies. The Giants received George Davis, fleet outfielder, from the Phillies and Glen Spencer, promising young right-handed pitcher from the Pirates. Pittsburgh also gave the Phillies Gus Dugas, young outfielder, and an unrevealed amount of cash.

GEORGIA TECH GIRLS TACKLES FOR CAL. FRAY

BY RALPH L. SANDERS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
ALANTA, Ga., Dec. 13.—(UP)—Coach Bill Alexander of Georgia Tech has decided he is going to need plenty of big tackles in his line in the game against University of California at Berkeley Saturday.

Alexander's information is that California uses a methodical football system usually striking first inside of tackle, then outside, and then kicking on the third down.

For that reason tackles have been getting extra-special attention. Guards have been given trials at the tackle posts and all the reserves have been allowed to show what they could do to stop plays through that department.

Tech's Yellow Jackets, who have a definite score to settle for a 19-6 beating administered by California here last year, are facing the game as another tough assignment. They have shown a distinct appetite for difficult assignments throughout the 1932 season, though the record is some distance from a Southern conference championship.

In the third game of the season Tech encountered Alabama Polytechnic. Now one of the claimants of a Southern conference title by virtue of six victories and a tie in seven starts, Tech lost that battle by only 6 to 0 and that was the narrow squeak Auburn suffered until it was tied by South Carolina last week, 20-20.

Tech defeated University of North Carolina by the largest margin the Tar Heels suffered during the season and held an extremely big and powerful Vanderbilt squad to a 0 to 12 score.

Tulane, with its All-American Don Zimmerman at halfback, was next. Tulane scored two touchdowns early in the contest but Tech produced a scoring spurt that gave it a 14-13 lead. The winning Tulane touchdown is disputed because Zimmerman fumbled as he crossed the goal line, and a Tech man fell on the ball. Tech supporters argued Zimmerman fumbled before he crossed the line but the officials ruled it a touchdown and Tulane won 20 to 14.

The following week Tech surprised the entire South by beating the indubitably powerful University of Alabama eleven 6 to 0. This was proof positive that Alexander had a ball team, though statistics showed Tech only had possession of the ball 15 minutes to Alabama's 45 during the contest.

Tech closed its home season against its ancient rival, Georgia. The two teams met on a quagmire of mud and battled to a 0-0 tie.

If Tech is right after that 2000-mile train ride, California will find itself confronted by a very light, but fast stepping, quick-thinking team that has a dangerous passion for taking advantage of breaks.

TECH'S ARRIVAL DELAYED BY NEVADA SNOW

BERKELEY, Dec. 13.—(UP)—Arrival of Georgia Tech's football squad here for their intersectional clash Saturday with University of California was delayed five hours today by snow storms in Utah and Nevada.

The train bearing Coach W. A. Alexander and 25 players was due to reach here at 7:45 a. m. Railway officials said it would not arrive until about 1 p. m.

MITCHELL AND FOSTER CLASH HERE TONIGHT

Brassie Mitchell and Homer Foster, two of the best lightweights in the Southern California amateur brigade, meet at the crossroads here tonight.

Bracketed for three rounds, they headline Kid Mexico's boxing program at the Orange County Athletic club, which may be the last at Delhi before the Christmas holidays.

Mitchell, an aggressive southpaw from the navy yards of San Pedro, has been made a slight favorite for the reason that he has never been defeated here in many starts. Foster, Los Angeles colored boy, decided Eddie Pruitt here two weeks ago in his first local appearance.

Raoul Solis, Delhi, opposes Larry Frahl, San Pedro, in a 125-pound semi-final. Reggie Kerr, Anaheim, heads the preliminaries against Wilton Walker, Los Angeles Negro middleweight.

Other bouts: Eddie Pruitt vs. Vic Orsco, 135 pounds; Guy Solordona, vs. Baby Sal Solis, 125 pounds; Carlo Carlson vs. Henry Banuelos, 125 pounds; Levi Young vs. Frank Barago, 150 pounds; Bill Manzo vs. Jack Vannella, 135 pounds; Ray Parks vs. Fred Olevis, 135 pounds; Doyle Richards vs. Howard Barker, 165 pounds.

DANA TO NAME OFFICIALS FOR GAMES IN 1933

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—(UP)—Pacific Coast conference officials concluded their two-day winter meeting today after they had elected Herb Dana, ranking coast football official, conference commissioner at their opening session.

Dana, who sells typewriters in San Francisco business offices when not presiding on the gridiron, will have the new job of selecting officials for all conference football games. He himself will be disqualified from officiating not only on the gridiron but also in all other conference sports. His office will be set up after the first of the year in Oakland. His salary was not disclosed.

Delegates passed a resolution compelling all non-conference games to be regulated by the same rules covering eligibility as conference contests. Official action was threatened against any violators.

Butler's Report Read

The conference, meeting in "star chamber" session, received the long awaited report of Commissioner Jonathan Butler who found that "only 10 per cent of the football players of the coast can be classified as amateurs under A. A. U. rules."

Touching on the general practice of athletes working their way through college, Butler, who retires this year, minimized this phase of his report by declaring that in two years of investigating conditions in the conference, he found no instance of an athlete drawing compensation in which he did not perform enough work to justify it.

The report, it was understood, exonerated Stanford, California, Oregon State, and U. C. L. A. of any charges of subsidizing or proselytizing.

Charge Ingram 'Contacts'

The author mentioned that Coach Bill Ingram of California personally "contacted" a number of high school athletes with an inquiry as to their collegiate preferences. Referring to Oregon, Butler was quoted as confirming his report to the regime of Dr. Clarence Spears, now head football coach at Wisconsin. He said charges against Oregon were now a closed incident.

Southern California was drawn into the discussion when the commissioner made several references to Trojan football players waiting on tables in the student union building.

Commenting on the report, Prof. W. B. Owen of Stanford, conference president, said that the conference "unanimously expressed its appreciation of the work of Mr. Butler. The report will be published in full within the next 30 days after it

Pitt Scouts Return With Data On S. C.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—(INS)—There was to be a serious huddle out at Pitt university today when Coach Jock Sutherland gets his head together with Scouts Bill Kern and Uihard Hangerman, who were returning home from their season's forays into opposition camps.

The big problem on hand was to map out some fairly definite method to enable Pitt to muzzle the U. S. C. scoring machine, and at the same time evade those giant S. C. tackles. Pitt meets the Trojans in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2.

Sutherland's return after a week coaching an all-star Northern team marked the resumption of intensive drilling for the Panthers. Only four more workouts will be held before the team entrains Dec. 18 on the first leg of its Pacific journey.

SAINT QUINTET AT LONG BEACH FOR LOOP GAME

Conceded an outside chance despite its two San Diego setbacks, Bill Cooke's Santa Ana high school basketball team travels to Long Beach tonight to meet Charley Church's Jackrabbits in its third Coast Preparatory league scramble at 8:15.

The contest, to be played in the Poly H gymnasium there, will be preceded by a league game between the midweight teams of the schools at 7:15.

In a hair-raising finish the Jackrabbits downed Glendale, 25 to 21, last week, while Santa Ana was dropping a doubleheader to Mike Morrow's lanky San Diegoans, 38-20 and 23-16. Glendale usually turns out strong basketball teams, and if either Long Beach or Santa Ana is to be favored to night, it will be the Long Beach that defeated the highly-rated Dynamiters.

Hares Have Giant Center

With a 6-foot, 8-inch center, undoubtedly the tallest player in the conference, in their starting lineup, the Hares should receive the tip-off tonight, and it is freely admitted that the tip-off in basketball means a great deal. His name is Dick LeFevre, and he hails from Texas. It was this stringbean, with 9 points, who defeated Glendale after Long Beach was trailing at the end of the third quarter, 13-17. Glendale had enjoyed a 7-2 lead in the first quarter, a 15-6 count at the half.

Coach Church probably will start a Long Beach team of Joe Lunn and Kendall Peterson at forward, LeFevre at center, Fred Hill and Dean Coleman at guard. Another combination, virtually as good, would find Johnny Takahashi and Howard Buckman at forward, Peterson shifted to center, Francis Grand and Moore at guard. Takahashi will be remembered.

U. C. L. A. BITTERLY PROTESTS AWARD OF PREFERENTIAL FOOTBALL DATES TO S. C.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—(UP)—A bitter fight between Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles appeared in the offing today after the city council passed legislation giving the Trojans preference as to dates of renting Memorial stadium.

Southern California was granted preferential rights to select eight Saturdays during the football season while U. C. L. A. was restricted to five Saturdays. The arrangement would apply for 10 years.

The legislation, designed as a compromise proposal, was immediately attacked by the Westwood school.

U. C. L. A. will be unable to arrange a decent schedule under such a plan," Stephen W. Cunningham, graduate manager, retorted. "I will oppose its adoption by our board of governors."

In a front page editorial published in the Daily Bruin, U. C. L. A. student publication today, Editor George Elmdorf, declared action of city council in awarding U. S. C. preferential playing dates was "both humiliating and degrading" to the Bruins.

"Unless the board of supervisors refuses to concur with city council in awarding eight preferential football dates to U. S. C., the University of California at Los Angeles will be forced to maintain a subservient attitude to the Lawrence Di Benedetto, chairman of the A. A. He was believed to have declined the position due to his desire to continue active coaching.

Hudkins' Driving Permit Is Revoked

SAYS TRIP EAST COOLED WIFE'S LOVE

Charges that, after a trip to the east five years ago, his wife became cold toward him and told him that she no longer cared for him, and of alleged intimacies with another man, were contained in a divorce suit filed in superior court by Harvey P. Riggle, Santa Ana garage man, against his wife Mrs. Ruth Riggle.

He is also asking custody of the couple's two children, and is asking that all community property be awarded to him. He listed community property as two houses and lots in Santa Ana, equipment for a garage and service station valued at $350, an automobile, furniture and personal effects. He also listed community obligations amounting to $4000.

Court Notes

Mrs. Ethel Pickelsimer has filed suit in superior court seeking a divorce from her husband, Ernest Pickelsimer whom she married August 13, 1919, in Youngs, Ga. They separated August 16, 1932. She listed two automobiles and household furniture at Huntington Beach as community property and is asking custody of the couple's two children, and all of the community property in addition to a monthly allowance for the support of the children. She is alleging cruelty.

Foreclosure of a mortgage on Santa Ana property given as security on a note for $1350 is sought in a suit filed by the Interstate Finance Company against J. S. House.

That her husband called her vile names when he forced her to leave the floor at a dance in San Juan Capistrano and had called her mother and sister vile names were allegations contained in a divorce suit filed in superior court by Mrs. Martha E. Clarke against her husband Joseph R. Clarke. The Clarks were married in Riverside September 1, 1924, and separated on Armistice day this year.

"Adventures in Health" is the subtitle of the 15-minute program, which presents dramatized health helps. Dr. Bundesen has been health commissioner of Chicago twice, a professional lecturer on Public Health Administration with the University of Chicago since 1926, and a leader in numerous civic and professional organizations.

Two songs addressed to an imaginary John, a traditional chanted and two songs of Spanish inspiration, will be a part of the Westminister Choir's broadcast to NBC listeners at 11:30 a. m. tomorrow. KFSD will release the program.

A Yuletide atmosphere enters the broadcast of the American School of the Air in the literature class to be heard over the Columbia network, including KHI, at 11:30 a. m. tomorrow. The story to be dramatized is "The Legend of the First Christmas Rose." It tells of the visit of the Magi to Bethlehem bearing gifts for the newly born Christ Child. On the way they see a poor shepherd child weeping because he has no gift to offer. An angel appears and causes a rose to grow at the child's feet. Taking this, the child offers it as a gift to Christ. The story is planned for children of the intermediate grades.

4000 Trees Planted During Year On S. A. Streets

TREES NOW ON 23 MILES OF CITY STREETS

One year ago this month the newly organized forestry board of Santa Ana began its consideration of a street tree planting campaign in Santa Ana. Since then trees have been planted on both sides of 23 miles of the improved thoroughfares in Santa Ana, all according to a well planned scheme and under a modern and comprehensive ordinance compiled and adopted in that interval, according to Asa Hoffman, chairman of the forestry board.

More than 4000 trees were required to bring about this first portion of the program to beautify Santa Ana through the growth of street trees, Hoffman reports. The chairman also points to the fact that the trees were bought and planted at an average cost of substantially less than $1 per tree, which means that the cost from the city funds has been less than two cents per front foot on the streets improved.

Appropriate types of trees and a street planting scheme were the result of intense effort during last December and January. The tree ordinance was then drafted and was adopted by the city council in February, becoming effective the latter part of March. The planting campaign then started with 865 trees being placed in the month of April, the report of Dale Griggs, assistant city forester, shows.

The California oak led all other species in the number planted, 735 being set out, with South Main street, Santa Clara avenue and Bristol street being some of the principal streets set to oak. On East and West Fourth street and Eighth street are to be found most of the 600 magnolia trees which were set during the summer. Carobs, camphor, flowering eucalyptus, beechwood, jacaranda, Carolina cherry and European acamores are other types of trees which were planted in numbers ranging from more than 100 to 300. It requires the efforts of two men to care and water the trees now planted.

The city nursery now has more than 1100 trees of size to plant for replacements and for small future planting schemes, the city forester's report shows. The fall season has been spent in trimming trees throughout the city. As the result of care exercised there has been less complaint by property owners than in any recent year, City Forester Dewitt Dudley asserts.

The city forestry board consists of Asa Hoffman, chairman, A. H. Allen, Fleetwood Bell, Oliver Halse and City Engineer Dudley, who is also city forester, all citizen members serving without pay. Mrs. Ruth M. Porgy, member of the city planning commission, has been an interested assistant to the board, according to Chairman Hoffman.

LIFE STORY OF FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

By Leland M. Ross and Allan W. Grobin

(This intimate story of the life of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, beginning with the time his father took him as a 5-year-old to call on his close friend, Grover Cleveland, then President of the United States, carries the reader through an interesting boyhood on the family farm at Hyde Park, N. Y., his student days at Groton, Harvard and Columbia Law School, and the development of his political career, which began with a New York State Senatorship. This biography is entirely authentic. Recent installments told of F. D.'s courageous fight against the after-effects of infantile paralysis, and of the work of the Warm Springs Foundation, which he established in Georgia after deriving great benefits from the baths there. In 1918 he worked for the nomination and election as President of Alfred E. Smith, and although the national ticket was beaten, he was elected governor of New York running far ahead of the national ticket. Roosevelt faced a hostile Republican Legislature.)

INSTALLMENT 25

Governor Roosevelt sat on the davenport in the homey living-room of the Executive Mansion, his legs crossed before him. He flicked the ash of a cigarette into a tray, leaned forward arms on knees and regarded his visitor with that upward tilt of the chin reminiscent of Harvard days.

"Fire away with your questions," the blue eyes seem to say.

"How many acres of tillable soil are there on your estate?"

"It's my mother's and it's not an estate," replied F. D. with an expression of annoyance. "It's a farm. . . . Must our farm be called an estate merely because I'm governor, or because it's been in the family a long time, or because there are flower gardens there? Call it by its right name—a farm. I don't like estates and I do like farms."

Governor F. D. laughed. But the amusement in no sense dissipated the point he had made. The Roosevelts owned a farm at Hyde Park. Not an estate. A farm where thousands of trees grew. A place of cornfields. A place of rye fields and of chickens and cows. Potato patches, barnyards. A place of farmers in blue work clothes. A place where F. D. himself, in years before the infantile paralysis, had gone to the fields and kept close to the realities of the soil and the life it nurtured.

Coming from such a background, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt needed no stimulation to awaken him to the farm problem. He did not need to "read up" he already knew. No one had to prick him alive to the abuses from which the 1929 farmer was suffering. Nor was it necessary to sing eulogies to him on the farmer himself.

"During my boyhood among the fine people of the Hudson valley," he said, "I came to respect the people in the country—those who live around the stove in the village post office and settle the affairs of the nation. Such men think. They take time to think."

On first evidence in November of 1923 that he had been elected governor, F. D. went into conference with farm leaders.

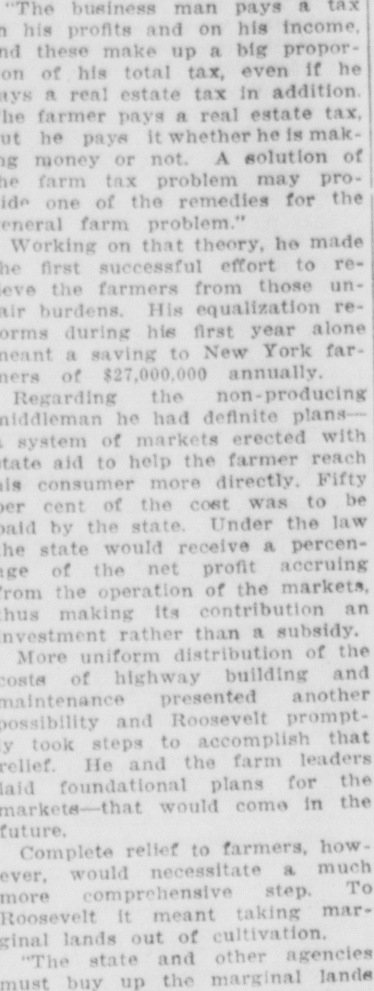

"We'll start things going right on farm matters," he told the chiefs of the State Grange. He talked plans with them and gained their confidence at once. They appreciated the honesty of his approach to their problem. They were being consulted on the program; and although they realized that fundamental progress would take a long time, they were convinced that he intended real aid.

They co-operated to the fullest extent.

First came the dairy farmers.

HUNGER ARMY HALTED BY POLICE

"They shall not pass" was revived from the war days by the Washington police department and used effectively, as shown here, in halting the advance of the hunger marchers as they arrived at the outskirts of Washington. The members had planned to demonstrate in the capital at the opening of the congress session but were halted outside the District of Columbia line and escorted to an isolated section in the northeast section of the city.

TESTS REVEAL STUDENTS AT H. S. BETTER PREPARED IN ENGLISH THAN U. S. AVERAGE

Revealing that students entering Santa Ana High school as sophomores are more poorly prepared in English than the average boy or girl of the nation, but that at graduation they are better prepared than the average student of the United States, the Pressey English tests, conducted in Santa Ana under the direction of A. D. Hoenshel, faculty member and research program supervisor, indicate an exceptionally high standard of teaching in the language department of the high school.

These tests, covering all types of grammar, punctuation, capitalization, grammar and sentence construction, are the most extensively used in the United States, according to T. H. Glenn, head of the English department. Written and prepared by Dr. R. L. Pressey, department of psychology, Ohio State university, they are distributed by the Public School Publishing company of Illinois throughout the nation.

During the four years in which the Pressey examinations have been given in Santa Ana, the high school has shown considerable strength in all tests, but it was not until this semester that junior and senior students showed such a decided increase above the national norm, Glenn explains.

Entering sophomores exceeded the capitalization median by nineteenth of a point, were on a par in punctuation, but fell slightly below the United States average in sentence structure and grammar.

The juniors made a showing slightly above the national norm in punctuation, capitalization and grammar, but fell slightly below in sentence structure.

Although only one-tenth of a point above the United States average in sentence structure, the seniors made an exceptional showing in punctuation, capitalization and grammar, the Hoenshel report reveals. In capitalization the national norm was 23.8; Santa Ana's upperclassmen scored 26.2. In punctuation the norm was 20.2, Santa Ana's mark 24.9. In grammar the norm was 24.9, Santa Ana's mark 28.2.

The Pressey tests also were given the high school journalists, under the direction of Edgar M. Flowers, but these results came in too late to be published in the national report. According to Glenn, the newspaper workers rated exceedingly high.

Junior Fine Arts Club Presents Musicales Tea in Studio

The Junior Fine Arts Club, who held a musicale tea Friday afternoon in the Earl Fraser studio in the Greenleaf building, with Mrs. Peck as guest artist.

The studio, with its artistic surroundings and furnishings, lighted by tall tapers in candelabra, gave an appropriate setting for the program. Mrs. Peck discussed first of all Rameau and his musical career, playing his "The Hen." She followed with Bach, playing his "Chromatic Fantasia and Fugue."

Her discussion of Chopin was followed by a rendition of his "Opus 25, No. 2, Etude." Brahms was represented by "Opus 110, No. 4, E flat Rhapsody." In telling of Debussy's works, Mrs. Peck played "L'isle Joyeuse." She concluded with Ravel's "Sonatine," in three movements.

Mrs. Peck was presented with a bouquet of carnations and delphinium, chosen to harmonize with the lovely powder blue gown which she wore. Miss Emma Williams, club president, made the presentation.

During a short business session, in charge of Miss Williams, club members made plans to go caroling Christmas morning at 8:30 o'clock. They will conclude with a holiday breakfast at 7 o'clock in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe. A dainty tea menu was served from a prettily appointed table with the Misses Kay Benham and Vivian Rogers pouring tea. Pointsettias decking the studio gave a holiday effect.

Those present were Mrs. Chas. G. Nalle, Halstead McCormack, Miss Jeannette Lutes, Miss Jeanette Bodman, Miss Laura Woolley, Miss Nerva Gerdies, Miss Vivian Rogers, Miss Mary Boyd, Miss Genevieve Hartung, Miss Marjorie Gowan, Miss June Arnold, Miss Emma Williams, Miss Kay Benham, Robert Dozier, Mr. and Mrs. Lippy, Miss Pauline Lindsey, Mrs. Henry Williams, Mrs. Luella McGaffey, Miss Ruth Oakes, Mrs. Carl Lykko, Miss Margaret Livingston, Holly Lash Vissel and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dowsett.

Capistrano Young Ladies' Institute increased its membership by four initiates who were welcomed into the chapter at its meeting last week in K. C. hall. They were Mrs. Mary Spelley, Mrs. Zola Maag and the Misses Rose and Ann Mollica.

Members welcomed as guests the Institute deputy from Pasadena, Miss Ann Gray, who was accompanied by Mrs. Tucker also of Pasadena. Y. L. I. Lucille Alair, president, introduced the Rev. Father Callahan of Los Angeles, who gave a short but interesting talk on "Confraternity of Christian Doctrine."

During the business session plans were made to act as sponsor chapter of a group of Catholic Girl Scouts of which Miss Rose Lutz will be captain. The chapter also voted to make a donation to the Girl Scouts central committee. Christmas plans were discussed and the chapter will follow its usual custom of giving parties in three different centers, West Fifth and Logan streets and Guadalupe church, where children will receive filled stockings and enjoy Christmas programs. Another custom of sending holiday cheer to women tuberculosis patients in Orange County hospital, will be observed as well.

In two weeks Capistrano members will celebrate with a birthday party at which Knights of Columbus will be special guests. Thursday night's meeting closed with a social hour during which refreshments were served by a group of Newport Beach members.

Final Board Meeting Of District B. P. W. Well Attended

Mingled feelings of regret at the termination of many pleasant years' association as member of the Southern District Business and Professional Women's club and anticipation of renewed interest in the new alignment following amalgamation of the two California divisions with the national federation, characterized the final Southern district board meeting held Saturday afternoon and evening in Los Angeles and attended by a representative group of Santa Ana B. P. W. members.

Mrs. Marshall Northcross, vice president at large of the district, and Miss Martha Whitson, board member of the California federation B. P. W., were present in official capacities, while others from the local club motoring in for business session, dinner and program, included Mrs. Adelaide Cochran, president; Miss Mary Garland, Mrs. Laura McNaught, Miss Harriet Whidden, officers; Miss Louise Kaiser, Miss Lula Ott, past president; the Misses Alma Karlsson, Damaris Beeman, Mary Hilyard, Mesdames Thomas Douglas, Blanche Brown and Eleanor Elliott.

Mrs. Florence Galetine of Santa Monica, just completing her year as president of the district, directed the business session held in the Elks club. Reports from different officers were given to conclude affairs of the district soon to lose its identity in the new re-districting zone. To San Pedro club was presented the banner for the greatest number of members present in proportion to distance traveled. Santa Ana club had held the banner since the last previous board meeting.

Among matters discussed was the allotting of funds of the present district, in view of the fact that the division after the first of the year, will create three new districts instead of one which now prevails. Mrs. Galetine named Miss Ethel Carroll, past district president; Mrs. Marshall Northcross, vice president, and Miss Frances Emans, legislative chairman, as a committee to apportion funds and other club possessions, including cups.

Attention was called to the first board meeting of the new Southern district to be held in Santa Ana in January, with Mrs. Alice Clark of San Clemente, as chairman. Selection of different board meeting dates for the three new districts, was advocated as an opportunity for continuing present pleasant relations by clubwomen attending the district meetings.

Los Angeles Business and Professional Women's club, hostess organization, had arranged a delightful program in connection with the dinner hour in the ballroom of Elks club. Miss Jane Humphreys, president, expressed friendly welcome to the several hundred visitors and presented Miss Leonard, Walsh as entertainment chairman. The program planned by the latter included an hour of Spanish music and dancing by Jose Arias and his talented company; greetings from Mrs. Galetine, and the introduction of Miss Winifred Frye of Santa Barbara, president of the California federation.

Miss Humphreys gave a resume of the origin and history of California federation, pointing out that its formation in 1919 made it the oldest in the United States. She told of aid given the formation of the National federation in St. Louis that same year, and spoke of achievements of the Los Angeles club, including the founding of the Woman's Athletic club.

Miss Sue Brobst spoke on the attitude of the federation on so-called "Protective Legislation." Miss Augusta Rosenberg concluded her talk on "Have Women Anything to Fear From the Next Legislative Session in California," with an emphatic affirmative, citing some of the needs for caution, and Miss Grace Stoermer concluding the program with a brief outline of "The Future of the Federation."

Card Club Received By Mrs. Leonard

The J. Robert Leonard home at 1408 West Washington avenue was opened recently to members of a card club to which Mrs. Leonard belongs, for luncheon and an afternoon of bridge.

A color combination of yellow and green selected by the hostess, was expressed by means of chrysanthemums and green candles. Guests conclude their 1 o'clock luncheon to reassemble at card tables for their bridge contest. Leading score at the afternoon's end was held by Mrs. Phil Lalonde, with a consolation gift going to Mrs. V. C. Shidler.

Guests in the Leonard home were Mesdames E. M. Neer, Louis P. Little, V. C. Shidler, Phil Lalonde, William Lawrence, F. L. King, Earl Lepper, Gilbert Brown, Noble Watson, Larry Newberger and Harry Brown.

Valley Review, Dinner Draws Large Crowd To Ebell Club

Analysis of the many-sided problem of war debts and examination of the several issues underlying this international hodgepodge was the strategic avenue by which Mrs. Jack Valley approached a plea, albeit second hand, for mental maturity in America, in addressing Ebell club last night. The political discussion, with its climaxing speaker's monthly review of books before Santa Ana Ebell society, which club members complimented their husbands.

In voicing the urge for maturity of mind, Mrs. Valley quoted Everett Dean Martin's work, "Civilizing Ourselves," in which the author disparages insincerity, above dishonesty, as a disintegrating force in any country, and in which he contradicts the opinion that all civilizations rise and fall in avoidable cycles, insisting instead that all civilizations have been destroyed by one foe: barbarians. Mr. Martin's analysis of "barbarians" as traveling in herds (and thinking and acting identically) as fearing what they do not understand; as worshipping size, and as never getting over the adolescent attitude, was frightening in its application to the country of which he wrote.

Mrs. Valley turned from her first book to "Blessed Spinosa" by Lewis Browne, author of "This Believing World" and subsequent triumphs, a turn explained as less abrupt than it appeared because of a new interest in the "philosopher's philosopher" which has arisen, oddly, out of present conditions. Spinosa, she reminded her hearers, visualized peace through "understanding."

In Alan Nevins' "Grover Cleveland" the reviewer cited a work "which should be a text book for the American voter." The book's presentation of the problems besetting the Cleveland regime, strikingly comparable to those which have faced the past administration, is encouraging in this very similarity, he maintained. A single discrepancy, she said, sets the two periods apart: Cleveland's surplus in the treasury.

Walter Pitkin blames the excessive responsibility given youth for many of the country's ills today in his book, "Life Begins at Forty," according to Mrs. Valley. Laudatory elementary schools as the finest, he asserts that ease and prosperity in the home have completed the ruin begun in high schools and colleges. As alternatives, Col. Kimberlin had for years held the post of commander of Camp Hill Bledsoe, United Confederate Veterans, and he will be sadly missed both by veterans and daughters.

A charming program presented by local artists, entertained chapter members and friends during the program hour. Introduced by Mrs. Haughton, Mrs. Estelle Card Beeman gave Christmas readings, one of which, "The Christmas Story," had been written by Mrs. J. U. Viau. Ollime Enlow Matthews was heard in a group of southern and classical violin solos, with Mrs. Ruth Armstrong as accompanist. Erma Hoffman may contributed two vocal solos, with Miss Hester Covington playing her accompaniments. Santa Claus Wild, praised for its authenticity and dramatic writing.

Mrs. Valley selected as outstanding from a long list of children's books, Christopher Morley's "The Goldfish Under the Ice" for very little folk; "Gopher Dick" (Sage); "Tracks Across the Sea" (Loomis); "Mutiny on the Bounty" (Nordoff and Hall) praised as a permanent contribution to literature; "That's My Boy" (Wallace); "Wild Cat Ridge" (Chapman) and "Ghosts of the South Seas" (Clarke) all for older children.

The Christmas dance presented yearly by Ebell society for sons and daughters of its members is scheduled for December 29, Mrs. Paul Bailey, president, announced. This affair, she stressed, is not to be confused with Junior Ebell undertakings, and is an invitation event, invitations to be procured from a committee consisting of Mesdames Harold Segerstrom, Hugh Shields, M. B. Wellington and F. C. Rowland.

Current Events section women, under the direction of Mrs. Roy Langley, leader, directed the serving of the dinner preceding the program. Tables were gracefully appointed with holly, candles and other Yule favors. Entertainment between courses was provided by the Junior College Male quartet: Marquis Hare, Martin Bowman, Rutherford Williams, William Fox, and Duncan Harolds, accompanist, directed by Miss Myrtle Martin.

"Courage," "Plantation," and two encores, a Rigoletto parody and "Old Man Noah," all were warmly applauded; and were succeeded by Mrs. Barry McPhee's "Dancing Dolls," Janet McPadden in "My Lady Goes a-Walking," Carolyn Wells, "Spanish Mantle," Shirley McPhee, old fashioned dance; Barry McPhee and Carolyn Wells, old fashioned and modern dances, and Barry McPhee, waltz clog, each done in costume and accompanied by Mrs. McPhee.

Christmas Tea And Program Held By Daughters

Emma Sansom chapter, U.D.C., held its December meeting last week in the home of Mrs. T. J. Haughton, South Sycamore street. Mrs. Haughton was assisted in hostess duties by Mrs. Clara Duggan, Mrs. Ray Stedman and Miss Ruth Griffith.

During a short business meeting preceding the afternoon's social hour, the ways and means committee reported a successful financial termination to the needle work bazaar which the chapter gave on December 3 and a vote of appreciation was given Miss Louise Montgomery for the artistic hand-painted window posters which so attractively advertised the sale. The few small articles remaining unsold when the bazaar ended were auctioned off to chapter members during the refreshment hour by Mrs. Claudia Worswick, so that not an article doctored for the sale was left unsold.

A note of sadness was introduced when news of Col. Kimberlin's death was reported, and chapter members planned to attend the funeral services in a body. Col. Kimberlin had for years held the post of commander of Camp Hill Bledsoe, United Confederate Veterans, and he will be sadly missed both by veterans and daughters.

A charming program presented by local artists, entertained chapter members and friends during the program hour. Head of Family Circle Happily Surprised On Her Birthday

With her daughters as friendly conspirators, Mrs. Rebecca Northcross, now a Los Angeles resident but well known in this community, her home for many years, was happily reminded of her seventi-fifth natal anniversary Sunday, when relatives and close family friends assembled in her home much to her pleased surprise.

One daughter, Mrs. Albert Outway, shares her mother's home and with her sisters, Mrs. Marjorie Joplin of this city, and Mrs. W. T. Powell of Los Angeles, was able to make plans for the reunion with such secrecy that the arrival of the first guests found Mrs. Northcross completely surprised.

Among the many charming birthday gifts and flowers showered upon the honoree, was a corsage bouquet of pale yellow rosebuds which she immediately pinned to place on her pretty black gown. Other flowers were arranged in baskets and vases to decorate the blossoms which Mrs. Outway had placed in decking the home for the event.

The afternoon was one of happy reminiscence in which Mrs. Northcross took leading part. Music added its own special charm, and baritone solos by John Patton were particularly enjoyed. He is a nephew of Mrs. Northcross, and well known in Los Angeles musical circles. His studio is located in Hollywood. At the tea hour, two granddaughters, Mrs. Frank Hess and Miss Mary Parker, took their places at a table charming with salmon hued snapdragons, to preside at tea and coffee urns, while the Misses Rebecca and Boyd Joplin of this city, also granddaughters of the honoree, assisted in serving the dainties of the tea menu.

Santa Ana guests bidden to share the significant occasion included in addition to Mrs. Joplin and the Misses Rebecca and Boyd Joplin, daughter and granddaughter of Mrs. Northcross, the two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Marshall Northcross and Mrs. Robert Northcross and Robert Northcross Jr., a grandson; Mrs. M. E. Head, Mrs. Horace Head, Mr. and Mrs. Terry B. Stephenson.

From other communities were Mr. and Mrs. W. Harper and family, Mrs. Genevieve Wilson, Laguna Beach; Mrs. Nora Northcross and daughters, and W. A. ANAHEIM, Dec. 13.—Carl Wollman will preside over the elections of the 20-30 club for the next six months. Election of officers took place last night when the members met in the Knights of Pythias hall for a 6:30 o'clock dinner meeting. Joe Schulz, president, presided over the session.

Ray La Font, a member, gave a brief talk on life insurance and fire insurance in which he stressed the importance of possessing both. Other officers elected were Wally Walton, vice president; Clyde Daniels, secretary; Waldo Wilburn, treasurer; Clarence Boardman, sergeant-at-arms; Dave Wagner, Wilmer Troutman, Arch Henry and Dick Fleming, directors. The latter was also appointed to investigate the needs of certain families who have applied for aid.

ANAHEIM, Dec. 13.—With all appointments and suggestions bearing on the Christmas holiday, the Home Economics section of the Ebell club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leonard Evans on North Lemon street.

Mrs. J. S. Van Wagoner, leader, and Mrs. Gladys Poyet, demonstrated the making of two delectable tea cakes and later served them at the tea hour.

Mrs. Van Wagoner had also arranged a table display of Christmas decorations and centerpieces suitable for holiday parties and the Christmas Day table.

At the tea hour Mrs. C. S. Cidman, curator, poured from the silver tea service arranged on an exquisitely appointed table that was covered with a white linen and lace cloth. Centering the table was a mirror reflecting a white statuette surrounded by a ring of red apples, green leaves and frosted berries. Red tapers in silver holders completed the appointments.

The Pan Hellenic meeting, scheduled for next Monday night has been postponed until January, according to Faye Kern Schulz, president.

ANAHEIM, Dec. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, found guilty of intoxication, were each fined $50 or 25 days in the county jail, yesterday. They paid their fines and were released.

ANAHEIM POLICE NOTES

LeRoy Wilson and Jim Myer, charged with possession of liquor, were fined $100 each or 60 days in the county jail yesterday morning when they appeared before Judge Frank Tauch. They were committed to the county jail.

PLAN COUPON SYSTEM FOR AIDING NEEDY

ANAHEIM, Dec. 13.—A special committee of the Women's Auxiliary of the Goodwill Industries of Orange county, held yesterday afternoon, a plan for extending additional relief for those who are in need in our community which has been under consideration for some time, was definitely adopted.

The program adopted provides for the sale to generously disposed individuals and business and professional firms, coupon books in denominations of $5, $25 and $50, containing coupons of the equivalent in the aggregate to the price of the book, such coupons to be payable on presentation at the Goodwill store or shop for labor performed, or in instances, where the labor may not be available, to be redeemed by the Goodwill in food, clothing or other necessities, the coupons in all cases to be presented at the Goodwill store or shop.

It is believed that the operation of this plan will be an addition to the relief work of any existing relief enterprises, and yet will simplify for the average citizen, now accosted so frequently for assistance, the problem of the worthiness or unworthiness of the applicant, said W. A. Taylor, treasurer of the Goodwill Industries, in commenting on the plan.

FRANCE ON EVE OF DEFAULTING

France will probably have passed a resolution in the Chamber of Deputies to refuse to pay a portion of the war debt payment due on December 15 by the time tonight's paper reaches the readers.

It is almost inconceivable that this should be done. It ruins the credit of the nation, as it does that of an individual. But France is practically blind to consequences. Her impatience at America is openly manifested in many ways now.

She did not like the moratorium of a year ago last July, granted by the President of the United States, because it possibly helped Germany out, and placed her in a stronger position, and France was not anxious to do this. She blames the United States for having made it impossible for her to get reparations from Germany, and of setting this precedent.

To be sure, the President did this at a time when such a crisis was on in Germany that it looked as if revolution might result were Germany placed in a position where she was forced to pay or default. But France doesn't care what happens to Germany as long as it is nothing trivial. Germany has not been and is not able to pay now, and we have insisted that our debtor nations shall resume payment.

This looks to France as if we had taken such action as to relieve Germany, and then brought the pressure on France. In fact, Premier Herriot argued this way himself before the Chamber of Deputies, even though saying there was no other way except to pay. But the deputies probably will show another way out today, and that is to default. Herriot will maintain that this is not a way "out," but a way "in." The French people will be exceedingly hostile to America, and the English feeling but little better about it.

THEY THAT HAVE GET MORE

The treasurer of Yale University reports that the present endowment of the school amounts to $95,320,000. This is a tidy amount, and would serve to keep a dozen or two ordinary colleges in other parts of the country in opulence. A president of one of our smaller colleges recently announced what for that college was a generous gift. In announcing the gift, he said, "At last we have been lifted out of pauperism to poverty."

This treasurer of Yale also announced the receipt of $1,500,000 for additional endowment during the lean year 1931. There is still some money left in this country in view of that large gift. For Yale, however, it was a hard year, as it has been for nearly all the colleges of the country. It is not what we get, but what we spend, that determines our general situation. There are any number of colleges with less than two per cent of Yale's endowment which are doing very creditable work for the young.

Well, here is the truth of the old saying, "They that have get more." It is the first million or two that counts. After that the getting is generally easier. Still, an institution with an endowment as large as that of Yale owes a great deal to the country. That endowment represents the toil of many thousands of men and women who have a right to ask that some of it shall be returned as advantages to their children.

ALL "HOT AND BOTHERED"

It is reported that New York's literati was all astir yesterday because Wilfred J. Funk, poet and publisher, selected ten words that he called the most beautiful in the language. It seems that the metropolitan writers aren't so sophisticated as they try to make themselves appear for they are not blasé about this matter at all. In fact they got all "hot and bothered" and one might almost believe some of them had taken a lesson in the art of attack from the members of the German Reich.

The words Funk had selected were: dawn, hush, lullaby, murmuring, tranquil, mist, luminous, chimes, golden and melody. Ring Lardner's list was: gangrene, manage, scam, wretch, flit, smoot, guzzle, mcnaaboe, blute and crene. Miss Dorothy Parker said her most beautiful words were "check" and "inclosed." Hendrik Van Loon thought cupid a beautiful word. Terhune liked eventide, hush, autumn, silently, forever, slumber, twilight, homeward, flowing, and violin. O. O. McIntyre thought the most beautiful words were fugitive, penumbra, haunting, despair, sardonic, greed, glamorous, meadow, hope, and airily.

Quite obviously some of the selections were designed to be amusing. Others selected the words, probably, which sounded musical or pleasing to the ear and probably others selected those which called up the nicest associations in the mind.

THE PRESIDENT'S BUDGET

The total amount which the President of the United States receives annually is $457,380. He receives $25,000 traveling expenses, and probably never uses it except in his fourth year of political campaigning when he tries for re-election. His opponent that year must pay his own.

Then he receives $172,380 office expenses, $185,000 for White House maintenance (he ought to be able to keep the house white on that!) and $75,000 salary (this probably is pin money).

It would be interesting to read the comments Thomas Jefferson or Andrew Jackson might make on this income of the President.

It would be difficult to have the simplicity of either of them if you had to spend as much money as that.

And then in addition to that we are told that the Treasury department pays $80,000 for the protection of the President. And yet this total expense would amount to less than half a cent per individual a year in this country.

Was it Speaker Cannon who said in response to a declaration by someone that Congress had spent a billion dollars: "This is a billion dollar country"? The President has the troubles of all the rest of us to worry about; he shouldn't worry about his own personal finances. And as far as we know, he doesn't.

THE MORNING AFTER A COLD NIGHT

Amid the terrible stories of the misfortunes and tragedies due to this cold period we read that the farmers of the midwest are happy. They are accustomed to cold weather at the proper time and for them this is seasonal. It means moisture in the soil in the spring.

All of us feel better about it this morning, when we can look up to the gorgeous snow-covered mountains, than we did last night when we tried to chink up the cracks or get out of the cold into a warm place.

The mountains "put a new face" on last night. Now we hope that they will remain as they are, even with a little more snow, if needed for good winter sports during the school holidays. Fathers and mothers who are feeling the depression this year will be able to cover a multitude of omissions if the children can be taken for a day of fun in the snow.

SHOCKING EXECUTIONS PUNISH THE PUBLIC

The dispatches declare that Mrs. Ruth Judd has been denied a new trial by the Arizona Supreme court, and she will be executed on February 17.

While frankly we are not enthusiasts for capital punishment under any condition, and we do not claim to be alienists, as a simple layman and observer, if Mrs. Judd is a sane woman, crazy people are extremely few.

Her execution, as would be the execution of the woman in South Carolina, who is about to become a mother, will be a punishment meted out to the great mass of people of the country who are in no way responsible for either crime. Can it be that that which shocks the sensitiveness of millions is the proper method to pursue in such cases?

'Spirit' is Sad During Holidays

The Pasadena Star-News

Very often the term is used, "the atmosphere" of a holiday or a special period. The term is used lightly, for the most part. Likewise another phrase is often heard, "the spirit of the occasion" or "the spirit of the season."

When one stops to contemplate a great patriotic holiday like Memorial Day, Fourth of July or Armistice Day, one is impressed that there is really something which may be termed "atmosphere" or "spirit" appertaining to such holiday. So with Christmas. The gladness of the season breaks through space and seclusion to impress all with the generous, kindly good will sentiments fitting to the Yuletide season.

It is more than a mere figure of speech to speak of the "spirit" of these holidays. The powers of the human mind and of the human soul as direct influences in the world are underestimated. We hear radio broadcasts and realize that the human voice and musical tones come long distances riding in to us on the ether waves and pouring into our ears at almost the same instant they are produced in the far-away studio, an absolutely faithful reproduction of the sounds which go into the microphone at the studio. If such marvels can be produced through the medium of the insensate air, should one marvel at the wonderful things which a highly developed organism like the human brain can accomplish? Is it not reasonable to suppose that when the minds and hearts of millions of people all over this country are turned in the same direction at the same time, that this concentration of thought and emotion should really create a "spirit" which permeates the air and registers its influence upon human beings everywhere, just as the radio broadcast comes through the air and is reproduced perfectly into the ears of the listeners?

Perhaps the next fifty years will show a wonderful development of knowledge along these lines in the realm of what now, for want of a better name, is known as "psychology."

Two Counties That See Politics Alike

San Bernardino Sun

San Bernardino county clings to its place as the seventh county in the state, but the margin continues narrow.

It is a great race between Orange and San Bernardino counties. In the November election San Bernardino county nosed out Orange county in the total votes cast for presidential electors. The totals were: San Bernardino county 49,548, Orange county 49,274.

And on top of that Orange and San Bernardino counties are like two peas in a pod. Look at the way the people of the two counties regard public affairs:

	Orange	Bernardino
Democrats	23,835	24,889
Republican	22,623	22,094
Socialist	1,577	1,502
Prohibition	908	858
Liberty	257	205
Write-in Foster	2	0
	49,274	49,548

The people of the two counties apparently look at things through the same glasses.

It is interesting to note the vote totals for the larger counties of the state. Los Angeles, Alameda, San Francisco and San Diego, the four largest counties, voted in that order. Then came: Santa Clara . . . 57,525
Sacramento . . . 52,365
San Bernardino . . . 49,548
Orange . . . 49,274
Fresno . . . 46,537
San Joaquin . . . 34,620

These totals are for votes for presidential electors of all parties. The total vote cast was somewhat larger in each county but the figures are not available.

THE TROUBLE DOCTORS

Bill Judson hasn't done so well. At managing his own affairs. And so he's loafing for a spell. Completely crushed with business cares. Long, wearing hours Bill has spent. In studying the situation. So he can write the President. And tell him how to save the nation.

Jim Jones is pretty much like Bill. He says it's mighty dog-goned queer. That rich old Uncle Sam's till. Is not filled fuller every year. He says that what is called finance. Is only waste, without an ending. And if HE only had the chance. He'd put an end to reckless spending.

SI Hawkins says that in this land. Which never has gone busted yet. It's mighty hard to understand. Why money is so hard to get. The country's in a sorry plight. Says SI, and wastefulness has done it. But he'd show how to put it right. If just he had the chance to run it.

And every city man you meet. Along the thronging avenue. Or in the eager fretful street. Declares he knows just what to do. So, if we do not soon win free. From our disturbing situation. Be sure of this: it will not be. From any lack of conversation.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE TWILIGHT OF THE PARTIES

The almost unprecedented mandate given to Mr. Roosevelt on November 8 cannot, in my judgment, be justly interpreted as a partisan triumph for the Democratic party.

Events will prove, I confidently predict, that this comprehensive victory signaling a growing indifference of the American people to Democracy and Republicanism as party labels and a growing determination to find and follow the leadership that will, regardless of the label it wears, bring political realism to the perplexities of the accurately, to the social or, more assuredly, to the social and economic disorder of the time.

The Democratic and Republican parties are no longer distinctive groups, each composed of a body of like-minded citizens. There is just as wide difference of opinion on all public issues within the parties as between the parties.

In fact, wider! Let me again indicate, as I have done in these articles earlier, the party-wide differences of opinion that exist within both of the major parties.

In both the Democratic and Republican parties there are some who think we should enter the League of Nations, and some who think it would mean national suicide.

In both, there are some who think our tariffs are too low, and some who think they are too high.

In both, there are some who worship at the shrine of St. Volstead, and some who long for a slightly moister regime or, at least, for a less furtively wet regime.

In both, there are some who think we should cancel the war debts, and some who think we should collect them.

In both, there are some who are terrified lest the Catholic church should get control of the government, and some who think the Protestant church has already done a rather neat job of controlling the government.

In both, there are some who view every problem through the eyes of Urban America, and some who view every problem through the eyes of Rural America.

There is no such thing as a unified Democratic mind.

There is no such thing as a unified Republican mind.

The voters will be right, therefore, in ignoring party labels and judging parties, not by their state slogans, but by the degree of realism they currently show.

THE RUNABOUT CHILD

"My child was a lovely baby and as good as an angel until the past few months. Now it seems that I can do nothing with him. He delights in breaking things. He pulls the table cover off and laughs to hear the crash. He is as destructive as a plague. I don't know what to do with him any more. I've tried everything, spanking him, putting him in bed, seating him on a chair, all to no good."

Did you give him something to do? Something of his own to be busy with? While a child lies in his crib he gathers some impressions of people and things about him. Those impressions are imperfect. He has not touched and weighed and measured the things in the house. When he finds his feet he is off on a tour of inspection in this perfectly new world. It is a very interesting place. The table has thickness, it stands up and hits you back when you bump your head against it. He didn't know that before. The chairs can be pushed and they can stand on their other parts as well as on their legs. Also they make a loud noise when they go over. That is all new to him. As to their meaning to grownup people he is blissfully ignorant.

We can't have the place wrecked. Furniture and rugs and the little odds and ends that have beauty and meaning to their owners must be safeguarded from this raider. He really does not mean to destroy. He does not know. What he is trying to do is to find out all about these new things. No, he has not seen them all these two years. He was getting ready to see them. It is now when he touches and pushes and pulls and bites into them that he is seeing them. He has to learn all this but we can't afford to have him get his education out of the furniture. We provide other means and save the house.

As soon as a child starts exploring take him on your shoulder and let him look, touch and learn what he can take and what he must let alone. If he has a few such excursions he will not have to go about on his own and his disastrous mistakes will be lessened. Keep taking him about the house until he understands what you mean. Then keep supplying him with things that teach and satisfy. His senses are alert to find what they can gather and as it is upon them he must depend for an important share of his working experience we take care to supply them with material. We take a drawer or a box that the child can reach easily and fill it with odds and ends that interest and amuse him.

Put into it balls of varying material, size and color and use; pieces of cloth, varied in texture and color; blocks that fit into each other, lids that can be taken off and put on boxes; metal odds and ends that give him the feeling of weight and temperature in opposition to those of the cloth; a doll in some attractive dress and that offers activity; a toy animal. Keep sorting over the material and adding and subtracting things as his use of them indicates.

Teach him to use his things for a half hour every morning, by himself. As he grows older and stronger lengthen the time he spends with his things and make them more useful to him. If he is trained in this way he won't bother the household furnishings so much. And he will grow much faster and with a higher quality of intelligence than if you just keep after him all day saying, "No. Don't touch. Stop that. Leave that alone."

To the city of Orange went the $100 first prize offered at the big Liberty Fair held in Los Angeles, for the largest, best and most complete exhibit of farm products submitted by any organization or county in California. The Orange county exhibit in general took 65 blue ribbons and one white ribbon, thus winning more in actual numbers than all the rest of the exhibitors together.

Owing to the cut-in of the stream of water flowing in Santa Ana river, the Santa Ana Canyon road, main artery between Orange county and the interior counties, was closed to traffic.
